Senate Told U.S. Can Defend Berlin

Taylor Says Army Ready For Any War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Heavily censored testimony of Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, U.S. military leader, is confident Berlin can and will be defended from possible Communist attacks.

Taylor, Army chief of staff, told the Senate preparedness subcommittee that Berlin "is defensible through our clear determination to go all out, if necessary, in any kind of a military operation which might be required by the situation."

"Berlin can be defended, and in my judgment it must be defended," Taylor told senators at a top-secret session Wednesday afternoon.

The career Army leader suggested that East German troops of other Red satellites, rather than Soviet forces, may be used if hostilities actually develop.

Much of Taylor's testimony amplified and expanded on similar top-secret testimony released Friday night after classified military plans had been deleted by Pentagon censors.

Taylor said the Army now has several weapons capable of firing either conventional or nuclear warheads but he said "even our so-called tactical (battlefield) weapons are big weapons and cannot be used close in to our own forces."

"They are highly dangerous to friendly populations and to our own troops," he added. "Hence the day is not yet with us when we can have atomic weapons in the immediate forefront of our ground forces."

Speaking of a possible all-out nuclear war, Taylor said it is his opinion "that if we are ready if necessary to go all the way, it probably will not be necessary."

If full Communist forces were thrown against the isolated West Berlin area, Taylor said, "We probably could not win immediately in a military sense, but I don't suggest for a moment that Berlin is not defensible."

If the attacking force is limited to East Germans and other satellites, Taylor said they could be held back or defeated by the United States and its European allies.

Taylor reported that thousands of wives, children and other dependents of U.S. military personnel remain in Berlin and the European theaters, with others moving in.

Taylor said the Army is ready to fight both limited or general war in Europe, the Far East or elsewhere.

He added his personal view that more emphasis should be put on preparation for limited or small wars and repeated his protests at reduction of the Army to 870,000 persons.

Taylor has been urging a minimum Army force of 925,000.

In Europe, he said some 20 NATO divisions now form a shield that could meet and hold back

Removal Of French Fleet From NATO Rule Appalls Allies

PARIS (AP) — France's virtual removal of its Mediterranean fleet from all NATO obligations Saturday stirred a bitter backroom fight in the Atlantic alliance.

Allied diplomats were appalled at the timing of the move — while the West is facing dangerous Soviet pressures over Germany and is working hard to present a unified front.

Western diplomats did their best to put a good face on the French decision to retain command of their Mediterranean fleet in time of war. But the anger was there.

Even the French appeared taken aback by the irate reaction from their colleagues in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Officially they would only confirm that the move was taken because of what France considers its special responsibilities in the Mediterranean. This means the guarding of links with Algeria, where a four-year-old nationalist rebellion endangers vast French holdings.

Allied officials, however, view the order as one more step by President Charles de Gaulle to get a bigger voice in the Atlantic alliance.

U.S. diplomats were described as furious over the French action and the timing.

A British source observed that "the most worrisome thing about it is the timing, during the Berlin crisis."

The big worry to the military men appeared to be that if France can high-handedly withdraw forces pledged to NATO other countries might some day follow suit. In that case the heart of the alliance would be weakened.

The French claim they were within their rights and that Washington and London were informed beforehand.

Militarily, the French move will have little effect. The French

CIVIL WAR VETERAN IS SERIOUSLY ILL

KINGSPORT, Tenn. (AP) — The condition of John Salling, one of two surviving Civil War veterans in the nation, remained serious Saturday. The 112-year-old Confederate veteran, stricken with pneumonia, was brought here from his Slat, Va., home Thursday.

Percy indicated he and other program committee members don't necessarily agree with Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.), who told the group in a closed session the reason the GOP hasn't been winning congressional elections "may be that we are not Republican enough."

Goldwater, an avowed conservative who won re-election despite last year's Democratic sweep and who now heads the party's Senatorial Campaign committee, said he agrees with Percy and National Chairman Meade ALCORN that Republicans need "to rethink our basic philosophy in terms of the demands of today."

But he added: "I feel very strongly that we need not compromise the principles of the party. It is not that Republican principles have failed us; we have not measured up to the vision of these principles. We have not known how to translate these principles into today's language."

Goldwater advised the Republicans to "quit reading public opinion polls and stop depending on advertising men in gray flannel suits."

The 43-member program committee agreed it would avoid platitudes and any effort "to be all things to all men" in its statement of principles.

WIND, COLD, SNOW HIT PLAINS, SEVERE STORMS RIP MIDWEST

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A windy cold front flung new heavy snows across the Plains Saturday and sent dust clouds billowing over parts of Texas and New Mexico.

Broad areas of the South enjoyed springlike weather. The new storm, riding on strong northwest winds, dumped up to eight inches of snow that piled into drifts three and four feet deep in parts of Nebraska.

Winds buffeted Lawrence, Kan., damaging some buildings and pushing a garage 50 feet from its foundation.

Weather Bureau warnings said thunderstorms moving through Missouri were expected to bring severe storms, hail and possibly one or two tornadoes in an area from mid-Missouri to southern Illinois.

Snow was scattered from the mountains of Montana into North Dakota. A heavier band stretched from Wyoming and Colorado into Iowa and South Dakota.

Driving was hazardous throughout the snow area.

Heavy snow warnings were issued for an area extending from Dakota, Minnesota, and into the Lower Peninsula of Michigan.

The cold front raced through La Junta, Colo., on 63-mile winds. Shifting winds sent blowing dust drifting toward Oklahoma.

High winds that blocked snow-removal crews died down in New York State and bright sunlight aided the clearing job.

Probe Ruins Of Home For Aged; 4 Still Missing

AURORA, Ill. (AP) — Four men were still missing Saturday as investigators probed wreckage of the Jennings Terrace home for the aged in the wake of Friday's spectacular fire.

Authorities are convinced the men died in the building. The elevator operator recalled taking the men to the first floor for breakfast and returning them to their rooms.

Five residents of the home and a fireman injured in the blaze remained in a hospital. Eighty-eight survivors, most of them women, settled temporarily in an old YMCA building.

Dr. Allan Fleck, regional state health officer, disclosed that the home had been denied a state license to provide convalescent nursing care in 1958 and 1959 because of fire hazards.

The nursing home license was canceled under legislation passed in 1957 empowering the state health department to require increased safety standards.

When the fire broke out, workmen were in the 161-year-old building installing a $17,000 fire sprinkler system.

Dr. Fleck pointed out that no state violation was involved in limited operation as an old people's home because the law does not provide for licensing such homes.

Officials said Saturday the President will stress this again in his broadcast.

They said Eisenhower will recall that the Allies and the Soviet Union have troops in Berlin under the traditional rights of victors in war. Eisenhower will underscore this, they said, by producing the documents which the Soviets have signed since the war spelling out the four-power occupation system.

Fulbright: Premature To Assume Reds Won't Start War In Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said Saturday night it is premature for anyone to assume the Russians won't start a war over Berlin.

Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) also said the United States should be willing to hold summit conferences on Berlin and other issues instead of insisting on meetings at the foreign ministers' level.

He supported the idea of meetings of President Eisenhower with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and other heads of state.

"We have to accept the fact that in Russia there isn't any second most important man," Fulbright said. "It's just the most important man. To them, a foreign ministers' conference is rather a waste of time because Khrushchev speaks for all of them."

Fulbright told Sen. George Smathers (D-Fla.) in a radio-TV program that the Berlin crisis is "a serious probing" by the Russians that may lead to "very rough tactics" by the Communists.

"I think we ought to assume that they may go very far," Fulbright said.

"If things don't go well, it could result in the use of force — and if that ever happens, even on a minor scale, it would be extremely difficult to limit it," he added.

"I regret the assumption that many people make that there's going to be no war. I think that's premature. I say it's a very serious situation."

Fulbright said that "instead of being too sticky about summit conferences, we should tend to accept them — in view of world conditions — as a more common practice, perhaps holding one every six months."

Fulbright said the country must support the President in his decision.

Irish President To Visit U.S.

DUBLIN (AP) — The leprechaun of Irish politics takes off Sunday for a tour of the United States.

President Sean (pronounced Shawn) O'Kelly — friends call him the leprechaun because of his 5-foot, 4-inch height — will be the first president of the Irish Republic ever to visit America while in office.

He will be the guest of President Eisenhower in Washington on St. Patrick's Day and may address a joint session of Congress.

Later, on March 26, O'Kelly will get the ticker tape treatment in New York City. Then he'll move to Providence, R. I., Boston, Chicago and St. Paul, Minn., where he has cousins. He'll end up the tour March 31.

Despite Some Important Differences

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain seem likely to reach broad agreement here this week on proposals for negotiating with the Soviet Union on German problems.

That is the expectation despite some important differences between the two men.

Macmillan, according to advance information, will urge Eisenhower to agree to attend a summit conference with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in midsummer even if a preliminary foreign ministers meeting fails to break the East-West deadlock on German issues.

Despite reservations, Eisenhower may give at least tentative assent, since he is understood to regard a summit session as probably inevitable.

The President, in some degree at least, will set the stage for his participation in the talks with Macmillan through a radio-TV report on the Berlin crisis and other German and European security problems Monday night.

Eisenhower set up a White House conference on foreign policy matters Saturday night with Acting Secretary of State Christian A. Herter. Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty said Herter and the President also would discuss Eisenhower's Monday night 9-30 EST speech.

That report to the nation is not expected to contain any surprises in the way of policy changes. Officials said Eisenhower's immediate purpose will be to stress the basic facts of U.S. concern over the Soviet threat to Berlin, his hopes for negotiation, and his intention to stand firm on Western rights.

The views which he expresses, however, can be considered basic to his thinking about the whole complex of German problems.

One Man Killed In Train Wreck

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP) — Failure of trainmen to set hand brakes was announced Saturday as the apparent cause of a spectacular wreck in which 15 freight cars tore into downtown Olympia at an estimated 60-mile-an-hour clip.

One man was killed and 20 persons injured in the pileup late Friday.

The Union Pacific Railroad reported trainmen apparently failed to set hand brakes on the string of cars when they were cut loose from a locomotive in a switching operation two miles south.

With the locomotive crew in futile pursuit, the cars sped down-grade toward the capital city. They tore out a dead-end railway bumper guard and crashed through the UP's brick depot.

Two cars went on 350 feet, crossed a main street and stopped inside a building. Two stayed in the depot, where Kenneth A. Dille, 36, railroad telegrapher, was killed. Four others piled up inside another building that housed a cafe, tavern, food shop and auto parts store. The other seven cars stayed on the tracks.

The UP placed damage at $225,000.

CBS Plans To Fight Feb. 19 FCC Ruling On Newscasts

CHICAGO (AP) — The president of the Columbia Broadcasting System said Saturday an all-out fight will be waged against the Federal Communications Commission's ruling requiring equal time for all political opponents.

Dr. Frank Stanton called the Feb. 19 FCC ruling on newscasts "perhaps the most severely crippling decision ever handed down with regard to broadcast journalism." He said if the FCC does not reconsider and reverse itself, CBS intends to appeal to the courts, to Congress and to the people.

He told a general conference of CBS television network affiliates that the decision makes it a mathematical impossibility for broadcasting to report any political campaign in its own way.

Stanton said the fight will be directed only to the ruling that Section 315—the equal time provision—is applicable to newscasts.

The ruling was handed down in the Lar Daly case in Chicago. Daly is a perennial and so far unsuccessful office seeker. He announced himself a candidate for both the Republican and Democratic nominations for mayor of Chicago.

Both Mayor Richard Daley, the Democratic candidate for re-election, and former Congressman Timothy Sheehan, his Republican opponent, were named.

Villagers Refuse To Leave Homes Threatened By Rock

SIRTA, Italy (AP) — The same when the first dangerous cracks appeared behind the village of Herbrigen-ponderous, expressed the feelings of himself and the 11 other families in Sirta ordered to move because their houses lie below the mass of rock.

"It wouldn't be very nice to fall to wake up some morning," he said. "But one has to be used to the menace. After all, the same rock has been hanging over our heads since I was a child, and since my father was one too, and it never fell."

The villagers of Paniga say they, too, hope for the best and set great store by what the engineers may be able to do about the situation.

Engineers will pour concrete into the cracks behind the huge rock masses, hoping to weld them once more to the mountain side.

If concrete cannot do the job, the engineers will try to chip away the rock piecemeal. This will let the rock fall into the valley gradually, instead of in one annihilating blast two months ago.

The Paniga rock slip is believed to have been started by blasting in a nearby power tunnel. Blasting was halted two months ago.

GOP Committee Plans Statement Of Party Principles

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans handed a party program committee Saturday the task of producing a statement of principles that will lure independents and wavering Democrats to the GOP banner.

Charles F. Percy, chairman of the program group, told a news conference he can't guarantee that all Republicans will go along with the long-range policy he expects the 43-member committee will evolve.

Percy indicated he and other program committee members don't necessarily agree with Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.), who told the group in a closed session the reason the GOP hasn't been winning congressional elections "may be that we are not Republican enough."

Community Board Names Committees At Pittsfield

PITTSFIELD — Clark King, president of the Board of the Community Center, has appointed the following committees for the year: Program, Carl Jones, Strother Grigsby, Mona Smith, Norris Stauffer, George Webel; finance, Al Wueliner, Keith Dodd, John Blake, Martha Caughian and Paul Weil.

Executive and house, Guy Zimmerman, R. C. Gray, Dale Spore, M. D. King and Clark King. Carl Jones is chairman of the committee on the pancake supper being planned for the near future, the Center's funds are low and this is always a good money maker.

Takes Leave

Mrs. Ralph Johnson, who has been in charge of the American Express office in Pittsfield for a number of years has been on leave of absence, has resigned her position and will remain in Grand Junction, Colo., with her husband, Kay Frank, who has been working in the office during Mrs. Johnson's absence, will continue to work there.

Plan Reunion

Jersey-Greene Science Fair Set For Mar. 18-19

JERSEYVILLE — The annual fair of science, arts and crafts of Community Unit Number 100, Jersey and Greene counties, will be held at the Jersey Community High school Wednesday and Thursday, March 18 and 19. Warren Greene of the Jersey Community High school faculty will be in charge of the project.

Thursday evening a special program will be presented as the climax of the two day fair. Standard Oil Company of Wood River will give a demonstration of Liquid Air and the Magic of Fire. Top project winners will be awarded medals during the program.

Projects at the high school next week will be the blue ribbon winners of the Attendance Center Fairs, and those of the students of the Science and Home Economics Departments. There will also be displays by the Latin and Agriculture students.

Blue ribbon winners at the Unit Fair will be entertained in the Greater St. Louis Science Fair to be staged in April and in the Sectional Science Academy at Illinois College in Jacksonville. Winners in the sectional event.

Mrs. McGinnis Is New President Of Arcadia Club

The Arcadia Federated Woman's club held its annual election Wednesday, March 11, at the Arcadia hall. Mrs. Lark Buck was named president; Mrs. Harold McGinnis, vice president.

Other officers elected: secretary, Mrs. Wilson Henderson; treasurer, Mrs. Fred Standley. The assistant treasurer will be Mrs. Andrew Wheeler. The reporter is Mrs. Arthur Kershaw, pianist, Mrs. Fred Standley.

Mrs. Harold McGinnis, president, was in charge. The group sang "My Faith Looks Up To Thee," then repeated the pledge to the flag. Devotions were by Mrs. Fred Standley.

Observe Golden Wedding Date

WHITE HALL—Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Cook who reside southwest of this city quietly observed their Golden Wedding anniversary on March 11. The couple was married March 11, 1919, by the late Rev. W. W. Lewis at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Brannan. They have no children. Mr. Cook is engaged in farming; both are enjoying good health and are active in the Pentecostal church at Roodhouse.

MUSSOLINI'S SON ACQUITTED—A Florence, Italy, military court acquitted Vittorio Mussolini, son of the ex-dictator, of wartime desertion charges. The 16-year-old charge was based on the fact that Mussolini, who left an Italian airbase in 1943, the day after his father had been voted out of office, never returned to his post.

Roll was answered by 14. Mrs. Armin Vorhees and Mrs. Ernest Reams were guests. The secretary, Mrs. Ireland Thompson, read minutes of the February meeting.

Mrs. Wilson Henderson, home and education chairman, reported projects in that department, and urged the club to take an active part. The president named Mrs. Andrew Wheeler to the program committee.

A flower and card committee, Mrs. Lark Buck and Mrs. Ireland Thompson, reported 80 cards and 16 flowers sent during the past year.

Mrs. Harold McGinnis and Mrs. J. Edmund Dinwiddie reported on the District 20 board meeting held recently in Jacksonville.

The hostess, Mrs. Arthur Kershaw, served cup cakes, ice cream with sherry center, mints, nut meals and coffee.

The next meeting of the club will be on Wednesday, April 8, at the Arcadia hall. There will be a flower and bulb exchange. Members are requested to bring cookies to the next meeting for the social hour.

Harmony Lodge To Present Two With 50-Year Pins

Harmony Lodge No. 3 will present 50 year pins to two members at its regular meeting March 16. Brother Ellis E. Henderson and Brother Carl E. Fison both became Masons on the same day, March 12, 1909, in the old Mason's hall on West State Street.

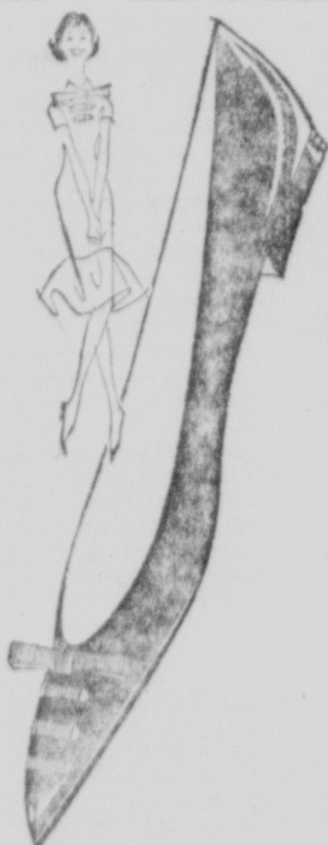

Both have been active members in the lodge since their initiation. Both will be awarded 50 year jewels during ceremonies at the meeting.

This makes a total of 12 members who have received their pins for 50 years or more of service. Three other members will become eligible to receive their pins during the year. They are W. A. Crawford (March 30), Cornelius Stocker (Sept. 17) and W. P. Spillman (Dec. 27).

"PARA-DEES-4" ON IC CAMPUS TO BENEFIT UNITED FUND

A few of the actors that will be seen at the annual "Para-Dees-4" March 21, are shown as they get ready for rehearsals. The "Para-Dees-4" is presented annually by the Student Forum of Illinois College and all proceeds go to the United Fund.

Everyone from Jacksonville and the surrounding area is invited to come and join in the fun for a worthy cause. Don't forget to reserve March 21. Tickets are only 75c and the action is scheduled to get underway at 7:30 at the Memorial Gymnasium on the Illinois College campus.

Municipal Airport Activities

The instrument pilot ground school course given the past 12 weeks, was completed last week. This course under the supervision of Carmen P. Burgard, was given to pilots who contemplated getting an instrument rating or wanted to get a refresher course on latest radio navigational procedures. Several pilots in the area attended the classes.

The course included subjects on radio navigation, weather forecasting relating to characteristics of air masses and fronts, radio and air traffic control procedures, civil air regulations and use of instrument charts.

Allen Chrisman of Meredosia flew to Peoria Friday on a business trip. The flight was made in Beryly Airlines Piper Tri-pacer.

The Bellanca aircraft of Lemac Aviation of Taylorville was in the shop for repairs this week for minor repairs. The Piper Tri-pacer of Don Walker of Jerseyville also received a periodic inspection this week at Wolke's Aero Repair.

Wilbur Lippert of Chapin who received his private pilot's license last week has been checking out in the Piper Tri-pacer in preparation in working toward his commercial pilot's rating.

The Community Flyers Club will hold its monthly meeting this Sunday, March 15 at the Flight Room at Capital Airport at Springfield, Ill. The luncheon will be held at 2:00 p.m. Members are invited to fly or drive to this meeting. President Byron Smith is in charge of the program.

Don Vecchie of Taylorville has been taking dual flight instruction this week in preparation in getting his commercial pilot's license. The training is being done in his Beechcraft Bonanza.

Hold McGlasson Funeral Friday

Funeral services for Robert Earl McGlasson were held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at the Glasgow Baptist Church. The Rev. F. V. Wright officiated.

"The Old Rugged Cross" and "Going Down the Valley" were sung by Mrs. Judy Fryman and Mrs. Joanne Garrett, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Ollie Carriger.

Floral tributes were cared for by Miss Prudy McGlasson, Miss Shirley McGlasson, Miss Karen Young, Miss Connie Fox, Mrs. Grace George and Mrs. Pat Wynn.

Bluffs WSCS Hears Reports Of District Meeting

BLUFFS—The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Bluffs Methodist Church met Thursday afternoon at the church with Mrs. John Pine and Mrs. Carl Arnold as hostesses.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Clyde Arnold assisted by Mrs. Carl Arnold. The lesson "One in Christ—Progress in Ecumenicity" was led by Mrs. Floyd Hart assisted by Mrs. Margaret Watson and Mrs. Paul B. Smith. Work of the World Council of Churches was presented in the lesson. Sixteen members and one guest, Cathy Merris, answered roll call.

Mrs. Harold Oakes, president, conducted the business session. Reports of various secretaries as well as those attending the district conference the previous day in Jacksonville were given. Those attending the meeting included Mrs. Oakes, Mrs. J. M. Pine, Mrs. Donald Merris, Mrs. Floyd Hart, Mrs. Gussie Andrews and Mrs. Paul B. Smith. The local society was again a "five star" society in the district.

Dates to remember are as guests of the Grace WSCS in Jacksonville, April 1, the annual conference meeting in Bloomington on April 15 and officer training days in May.

The last session of the study class will be held with Mrs. Harold Oakes on March 19. The society voted to sponsor a student to the Mission Caravan if anyone wishes to attend.

Mrs. Jane Woodson presented the spiritual thought for the day to conclude the afternoon session. Delicious refreshments of gingerbread with whipped cream, mints, salted nuts, coffee and tea were served with decorations in keeping with St. Patrick's Day. The table centerpiece was jonquils and green candles in crystal.

Final Rites For Benjamin Long

NEW BERLIN — Funeral services for Benjamin Franklin Long were held at 2 p.m. Friday at the McCullough Funeral Home with Rev. Melvin Roy, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating.

Mrs. Roy was soloist for the services singing "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" and "In the Sweet Bye and Bye." She was accompanied at the piano by Miss Irene Lewis.

Pallbearers, who cared for the flowers, were Fred Hermes, Harry Hodgson, John Reichart, Jack Halter, Floyd Lewis and Robert Sokolis. Burial was made in Wood Wreath Cemetery at Island Grove.

Rev. C. L. Justis Attends National Council Meeting

WHITE HALL—Rev. C. L. Justis, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, is attending the National Council of United Presbyterian Men in Chicago, which convened on March 13 and 14. The group is meeting at the Palmer House and Rev. Justis will serve as a discussion leader in the talk-over session.

His Excellency Daniel A. Chapman, ambassador from Ghana to the United States, was guest speaker on March 13, with Rev. Dr. Raymond O. Lindquist, chairman of the board of the National Missions and senior minister of the Hollywood Presbyterian Church, being the keynote speaker for the meeting, the theme of which is "Build on Your Most Holy Faith."

File Carrell Will In Greene County

CARROLLTON — The will of Maggie Ellen Carrell, who was killed in an automobile accident in January was probated March 11 and ordered recorded. Mrs. Olga Best, daughter of the deceased was named executor giving bond in the sum of $30,000. The will was executed July 8, 1957 and witnessed by R. Logan, Lucy Langer and Mrs. Vivian L. Day.

The will provides for the payment of all debts and funeral expenses. Gifts from the personal effects of Mrs. Carrell were left to the following: two sisters, Miss Rhoda Carrell and Mrs. Blanche Claypool; a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Hester Carrell; grandsons, Elwood Carrell, Raymond Carrell, Robert Carrell, Richard Best, and Robert Best; granddaughters, Mrs. Mary Volles and Martha Best; a son-in-law, Richard B. Best; and a daughter, Mrs. Olga Best.

To a sister, Rhoda Conrad and the daughter Olga Best each one fourth of the net proceeds from sale of bonds and one fourth of the checking account. To a daughter-in-law Mrs. Hester Carrell and to the daughter, Mrs. Olga Best, equal shares of the remaining three fourths of net proceeds from sale of bonds and the remaining three fourths in the checking account.

WASTED WORK

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Park Supt. Jim Clary proudly told the park board how he wielded a heavy sledge hammer three days knocking a hole in a wall to make a gate. Then he was informed that the proposed gateway would have to be moved because children using it would be endangered by nearby traffic.

REVENUE FROM STAMPS

Great Britain's lonely St. Helena Island, in the South Atlantic Ocean, has nearly 5,000 inhabitants on its 47-square-mile area. The island has no internal mail service, but a large part of its revenue is derived from sale of its postage stamps to collectors.

A fine burial place for the dead is considered more important than a house for the living in the Ryukyu Islands.

Reds Push Industry Automation In Gamble To Overtake The U.S.

By RAY CROMLEY

NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Evidence just reaching here indicates the Russians are throwing their scientific chips into another major gamble.

The field: automation. The stakes: industrial supremacy over the U.S. The cost: billions.

In top scientific manpower the effort will dwarf the push that the Russians ahead in the missile-satellite race.

Worried, leading U.S. scientists say the Soviet program is "well thought out" and "well planned."

Already a network of 129 technical sub-stations are scheduled to be set up throughout the Soviet by 1960. Their job: to enforce the automation of factories as Russian scientists develop the techniques and the equipment.

The Soviet scientists are looking for an automation breakthrough. Their purpose: to leapfrog from crude factory production right over manned assembly lines to automatically controlled factories.

U.S. scientists here say the Soviets could possibly do this leapfrogging if they're lucky with the breakthroughs. They have able men at work in the automation field. They're rapidly training the technicians they need—at three times the U.S. rate—for automatic factories.

If the Russians can solve the major problems of large-scale automation before U.S. scientists do, they will be able to threaten the U.S. where it would hurt most—in mass industrial production.

How far have the Russians gone? Reports reaching the Bureau of Standards indicate the Soviets are ahead of the U.S. already in some key basic research.

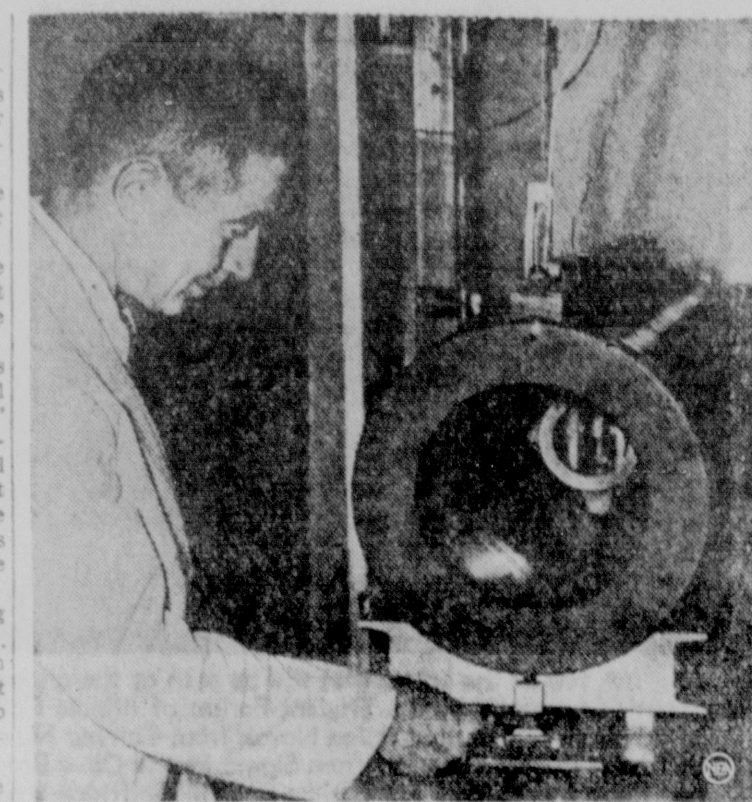

Automation depends on precision and on reliability. Full automation isn't practical on a large scale in U.S. factories yet because extremely complicated fully automatic systems break down so frequently as to be impractical.

"When there are a million parts in a system, something is always breaking down," says one scientist. What's needed is a whole new concept—a system that won't have so many parts, therefore won't break down so quickly.

Winning this battle depends on simple things, say the scientists: the ability to measure a tenth of a millimeter of an inch with extreme reliability; the ability to measure temperatures with precision.

It depends also on a better understanding of the way to tear down and put together atoms and molecules so as to be able to build simple materials that will take the place of whole automatic circuits.

This is precisely the field in which the Russians have gotten ahead of the U.S. They've built a bigger atom smasher. They've put batteries of top men at finding what's inside the atom.

The Bureau of Standards has received new reports that the Russians already can routinely measure high temperatures the U.S. experts can't yet measure exactly. They can measure high forces (like the force needed to put up a rocket) with an accuracy U.S. scientists can't match, measure high frequency waves U.S. engineers find it difficult to define precisely.

"These are some of the basic measuring abilities that put them ahead in satellites," says one scientist here. "Now their new drive in finer measurements and their studies inside the atom could give them a breakthrough in automation and have them breathing down our necks industrially in not very many years."

Franklin Groups Aid Church Razed By Fire

FRANKLIN—The Franklin Lions Club at its last regular meeting, voted to make a donation of $50.00 for the Building Fund of the Methodist Church that was destroyed by fire.

Billie Oxley is turning over next Saturday's proceeds at the Texaco Station, and the Durbin Young Adults Class is giving 50 percent of the profits from their pancake and sausage supper next Tuesday, March 17th, at the High School. All these gifts will be greatly appreciated by the entire membership of the church.

At the regular meeting of the Franklin chapter of the Order of Eastern Star a memorial service was held in honor of Mrs. Anna Ranson whose death was Feb. 16th. Conductress Laura Shear and Associate Conductress Ruth Ranson draped the altar. Leroy Sweet Chaplain read the 23rd Psalm and Mrs. Marie Hart sang "The Old Rugged Cross."

Brief News Notes
Several from the Franklin Methodist W.S.C.S. attended the District meeting held at the Grace church in Jacksonville. Foreign Students To Give Program At Club Dinner

Western Europe and the Far East will be discussed by MacMurray College foreign students Thursday, March 19, at the meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Jacksonville. The dinner meeting is at 6:15 in the Hotel Dunlap.

Hans Mille, freshman at MacMurray College for Men who is from West Berlin, will discuss the political and economic situation in the three parts of Germany. Mille who has appeared before various local organizations this year, is majoring in Government at MacMurray.

Susan Lee, a junior at MacMurray College for Women, came to Jacksonville from Seoul, Korea, where she attended Hiwassee College. The 5-4, attractive brunette is majoring in Sociology, with plans for a Bachelor of Arts degree. She will speak on Korean customs.

Dr. Mary Louise Newman is program chairman for the Business and Professional Women, and Mrs. Mildred Davidson is president.

Steal $500 Loot At Sub-Station Near Jerseyville

JERSEYVILLE — The sub-station of the M.J.M. Electric Cooperative was broken into and a lot of material hauled away. The loot taken included hand rolls of wire, service wire, copper sleeves and connections.

The sub-station entered is the one south of Jerseyville and Charles Witt of the electric company expressed the belief that the burglary was committed either Monday or Tuesday night. He estimated that the materials taken are of $500 value. The loss was discovered Wednesday morning and reported to local authorities.

MATTRESS SALE

We are now enlarging our selling space on our third floor to make room for all the new and enlarged stocks of furniture. To do this we must clear this floor of all the mattress and box springs which will be warehoused at our Annex in the future. To avoid all the trouble and expense of moving these mattresses, we have decided to have a sale to end all sales in bedding. Here is your chance to save many, many dollars and help us reduce our stock. DON'T MISS THIS OPPORTUNITY.

Ten of the 11 senior girls from high schools in the area chosen for the 1959 Daughters of the American Revolution Good Citizen Awards, and their mothers, were guests of the Rev. James Caldwell chapter at its March luncheon meeting last Thursday.

The lower picture, left, in one of the furnished bedrooms on the second floor, Carol Anderson, Chapin High School; Sue Hendrickson, Roodhouse High School; Mrs. Dorothy Grabill, Good Citizen Chairman for the Chapter; Sharon Davis, Illinois School for Deaf; Carolyn Beckett, White Hall High School and Nadine Negus, Franklin High School. The other Good Citizen, Judith Anderson, Illinois Braille and Sight Saving School, was ill and not able to attend.

Junior Club To Buy $400 Telescope For School Junior Science Museum

The Jacksonville Junior Woman's club voted at its March meeting, held last Thursday at Hotel Dunlap, to buy a four hundred dollar telescope for the Junior Science Museum at Jonathan Turner Junior High School.

The science program is available to all students of School District 117 from grade five through high school.

This is one of many civic endeavors undertaken by the Junior Clubwomen, and in excess of county, state and national Federation projects. The money was obtained from donations toward a sink scarf during a fund raising campaign last year.

During the business session, conducted by the president, Mrs. Jack Mathews, the club also approved a donation to the Easter Seal sale.

Professional Model Speaker

Red Cross To Explain Blood Donor Program

During the last two weeks of this month a Red Cross worker will call at every residence in Jacksonville. This caller will explain the Morgan County Red Cross Blood Program and will leave explanatory booklets.

How will also ask for blood donors for the April 2 and 3 bloodmobile visit, the June 4 and 5 visit, or the visit in late summer, probably in August.

By soliciting for three different bloodmobile visits at once, effort will be conserved. The citizens of Jacksonville will relieve rural areas from the responsibility of giving blood at a time when farm work is urgent.

The following recently met at the Morgan County Red Cross Headquarters to set up this program of house to house visitation: Mrs. John Corrigan, Mrs. Wendell Dypinger, Mrs. Peggy Ezard, as Mrs. William Flippo of Alton, Miss Hamilton modeled for eight years during which time she was an assistant director for the Patricia Stevens School of Charm in Dallas, Texas and at St. Louis, Mo. Miss Hamilton also conducted a charm school on KSD television station, St. Louis, for several months.

The petite and very attractive speaker discussed the importance of health and beauty routine, sense of fitness, controlled voice and speech, as well as feminine gracefulness and charm.

Mrs. Keith Schuman reported on a club sponsored party for patients at Jacksonville State Hospital on March 5.

Arrangements were made for a dance on Saturday, May 2, at Hotel Dunlap, with Terry Brennan's Combo furnishing the music. The price was set at two dollars per couple.

April Fools' Party
Plans were also announced by social chairman, Mrs. Tom Cramer, of an April Fools' party, for members only, Wednesday, April 1st, at the YMCA Youth Center from 8 to 10:30 p.m. Ridiculous costumes will be the feature for the evening and prizes will be awarded as well as refreshments served. Chairmen are Hannah Schwitsky, Mrs. William Shouse and Mrs. James Gibbs.

Several guests attended the meeting one being Mrs. William (Fero) Henry of Springfield, immediate past president of the club.

An invitation from the Senior club reminded the group its members were invited to that group's meeting held Saturday, March 14.

The floral centerpiece at the speaker's table was presented to Ruth Pennell. The Junior club will be in charge of the Coffee during registration on April 13 of the 20th District Federated Club convention to be held at Grace Methodist church here.

Mrs. Paul Norfleet is chairman and her assistants will be Mrs. Ben Lampitt, Mrs. Glen Litter, Mrs. Fred Gray, Mrs. J. R. Davidsmeyer.

Mrs. Jack Stevenson, Mrs. Robert Herr, Mrs. Warren Massey, Mrs. Letoy Jackson, Jr.

Jefferson School PTA In Meeting; Officers Named

Students presented a music demonstration program for the March meeting of the Jefferson School P.T.A., March 10 at the school. The program was held in the school gymnasium which was filled with a capacity crowd of interested parents and teachers.

Classrooms were open from 7:10 to 7:30 for parents and friends to visit teachers, register, and examine work on display.

The business meeting was opened with the pledge to the flag, led by Mrs. Otis Thomas, president. An announcement was made by Oliver Buck, principal, urging the signing of a petition which would be circulating among those present during the meeting.

The petition concerned the sale of Union Grove School property. The secretary's report of the February meeting was read by Mrs. Enneth Miner and William O'Brien gave the treasurer's report.

Mrs. Darwin Ronat announced that Mrs. Maude Hungate had been selected to receive the annual award of a lifetime membership in P.T.A. Due to illness Mrs. Hungate was unable to be present, and Mrs. Bertha Kuster accepted the award in her behalf.

Nominations for officers for the 1959-1960 P.T.A. season were presented by nominating committee chairman Mrs. Harold Carter, as follows: President—Mrs. Darwin Ronat; Vice President, Mrs. Dean Smith; Secretary—Mrs. Enneth Miner; Treasurer—Miss Margaret Hopper.

There were no additional nominations from the chapter and those named by the committee were accepted. Installation of officers will be held at the next regular P.T.A. meeting April 14. A musical program was given by a large number of pupils.

JB9 Man Speaks To D.A.R. Members

The Rev. James Caldwell Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held the annual Good Citizens meeting at the Chapter Home on Thursday, March 12.

Members and guests gathered in the meeting room. The Regent, Mrs. George L. Drennan, welcomed the guests. The pledge to the flag was led by Mrs. Lawrence Mallicoat. The National Anthem was sung by the group with Miss Mabel Withee at the piano. The Chaplain, Mrs. Arthur Ewert, gave the blessing before the luncheon. Miss Mabel Withee and Mrs. Arthur Ewert poured.

The meeting started at 2 o'clock, the Regent presiding. The program chairman, Mrs. Albert Powers, presented the speaker, Mr. Robert D. Gibbons, special agent in charge of the Springfield office, Federal Bureau of Investigation. Mr. Gibbons entered the F.B.I. in 1934 and served in several cities before being assigned to his present assignment in Springfield.

Hostesses of the meeting were chairman, Mrs. Charles Bowen, Mrs. E. A. Nelson, Mrs. Fred Deatherage, Mrs. Arthur Ewert and Miss Mabel Withee.

ROBERT GIBBONS

Mr. Gibbons opened his interesting and informative speech stating that it is a rule of the F.B.I. that the Special Agent must personally attend to any assignment considered dangerous. Speaking to a group of ladies is considered a most dangerous assignment by all in my office, therefore I am here. Good citizens are essential to the F.B.I., he stated, therefore this meeting and these girls you honor here today as Good Citizens are linked with the ideas of our branch of service. Ethics are a part of any F.B.I. man. The three things that make a good citizen are character, reputation and association, Mr. Gibbons said, when they are the right kind.

The D. A. R. and F.B.I. are interested in some of the same things, the freedom and preservation of our history as a free land, the speaker said. Crime today is four times greater than in 1950. It is costing the citizens more than our schools and other good things.

The task today is to try to strengthen the moral fibers of our citizens. Mr. Gibbons stated, An Agent is highly disciplined and often finds it hard to go into any work because of the ethics in many of the other lines of work. Mr. Gibbons' explanations of some of the duties of an F.B.I. Agent gave much food for thought, and did capture the attention of his audience.

During the business meeting that followed, Mrs. Charles Bowen was elected to the nominating committee. The treasurer, Mrs. W. Earl Reckart, gave her report. The secretary, Mrs. J. E. Dinwiddie, read the minutes of the last meeting.

Mrs. Drennan announced that she had entertained twenty-two Boy Scouts at the Chapter Home, taking them on a tour of the home. In April about fifty Girl Scouts are to visit the home.

Mrs. Paul E. Grabill, Good Citizens chairman, conducted the Good Citizens program. As each of the girls were called to the stage, their Mother accompanied. Each girl was presented a certificate, and a corsage which she pinned on her Mother. The Mother was presented the D.A.R. pin which she pinned on her daughter.

After the presentations, the Regent, Mrs. Drennan, spoke to the guests. She explained how the "Awards" are earned by the girls. They must gain the respect, not only of the student body as they go through school, but also that of the faculty. The Mother plays a great part in the daughters life and must be proud of her part. In closing the meeting, the Regent told of some of the history of the D.A.R. and spoke of some of the history of Jacksonville.

Miss Judith M. Anderson of I.B.S.S. was unable to attend because of the mumps. This was regretted by all.

Hostesses of the meeting were chairman, Mrs. Charles Bowen, Mrs. E. A. Nelson, Mrs. Fred Deatherage, Mrs. Arthur Ewert and Miss Mabel Withee.

Program Tonight In Tribute To Handel

The two hundredth anniversary of the death of George Frederic Handel will be observed at MacMurray College vesper services this evening in Annie Merner Chapel. The program, open to the public, will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

Selections will be presented by the men's choral group and by the MacMurray College choir along with the freshman Madrigal Club. The program will begin with a Choral Prelude, "As Jesus Stood Beside The Cross," by Robert Glasgow. Mozart and Beethoven selections will then be presented by the Madrigal Club, with Miss Sue Campbell of Greenfield, Iowa, soloist.

Both the MacMurray choir and the men's choral group will combine to present the Easter portion of the service, which will be held at 8:00 o'clock.

Soloists for Handel's Messiah will be Linda Fleming Strong, soprano; Freshman woman's counselor; Patricia Hilbrink, and Joseph C. Cleeland, tenor. Henry E. Busche will conduct the women's college choir; Marjorie Phelps Gerson will conduct the Madrigals; and Joseph C. Cleeland will direct the men's choral group.

Violin Solo
William Hilbrink, MacMurray music instructor, will present a violin solo, Handel's Third Sonata, as part of the evening's program.

Following this, the scripture lesson will be given by Dr. McKendree M. Blair, college chaplain. He will follow with the benediction, and the choral response will be made by the Madrigals.

Soloists for Handel's Messiah will be Linda Fleming Strong, soprano; Freshman woman's counselor; Patricia Hilbrink, and Joseph C. Cleeland, tenor. Henry E. March Of Dimes Collection Totals $582 At Ashland

ASHLAND—Mrs. Robert Dougan, chairman for the March of Dimes campaign in this city, has compiled the following report, and the amounts collected have been broken down in the following categories:

House collections, $61.51; business places, $116.71; club and church societies and organizations, $77.40; schools, $96.24; coin collections, $19.07; basketball games, $34.07; benefit basketball game, $51.00; Ladies and Men's Bowling League, $23.25; total $582.25.

Those who helped with the solicitation in town and the business section were Miss Irene Newell, Mrs. Wilma Thornley, Mrs. Bill Quinley, Mrs. Clarence Summers, Mrs. William Woods, Mrs. H. L. Creed, Mrs. Lawrence Clemmons, Mrs. Francis Newell and Mrs. David Chatarea.

Church Class Meets

Thirteen members of the Loyola Daughters class of the Church of Christ met in the church basement Tuesday night for the regular meeting. Mrs. Bernice Hoagland read the scripture lesson and also had the devotionals reading an article on "God Is Love."

Mrs. Louise Quinley was in charge of the program, which consisted of two contests, "TV Stars" contest and "Easter" contest, with Dorothy Evans winning the prize for the first contest, and Catherine Cosner and Artie Walker, second.

Refreshments were served by Johanna Plowright and Leta Hammack.

Men's Fellowship

Ninety-four were in attendance at the Christian Men's Fellowship meeting held Monday evening in the basement of the Church of Christ. A cornbread and bean supper was served by the ladies of the church at 7 p.m. An inspirational service followed the supper.

Twelve churches were represented: Bunn Park, Elm Street church, Monroe Street church, South Side and West Side churches, Springfield, Williamsville, Lomax, Riverton, Litterberry, Pleasant Plains and Ashland.

Litterberry took the banner with them as they had the most men attending.

The speaker for the evening was Rev. Tommy Keys, pastor of the Bunn Park church, Springfield, a former minister of the local Church of Christ; prayer was offered by Rev. Maynard Waters, pastor of the Lomax church; a duet was sung by Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Lewis.

The next meeting will be held in Riverton in April.

Name FHA Chairman

The FHA met Monday night at the high school. Donna Douglass was appointed chairman of the window display downtown, and Virginia Aggertt was appointed chairman of the bulletin board. Money making projects and the mother and daughter banquet were discussed.

Guest speaker for the evening was Mrs. David Chatarea, who told of the many interesting things of her country.

The final entry date for persons entering the annual Home Talent show will be Tuesday, March 17. This program is sponsored by the Ashland PTA in the new school gym on March 24, at 7:30.

Anyone living in the Ashland school district is eligible to enter the contest. Talent competing will be divided into four divisions, according to age. Division 1 will consist of children of pre-school age and kindergarten; division 2 will include the children from the first to sixth grades; division 3 is for seventh and eighth grade pupils and high school students; division 4 is open to all adults.

When the entry consists of more than one person the age of the oldest contestant will be the deciding factor as to which division they will compete.

First and second place prizes of $2.50, $1.50 and $1 will be given in each division.

Contestants are requested to appear at approximately 7 p.m. for pre-show arrangements so the program may begin promptly at 7:30 p.m. A volume indicator will be used to register the applause for each contestant allowing the winners to be chosen from each division. Charles Foman will preside as master of ceremonies.

Entries may be placed with the committee: Mr. and Mrs. Bob Aggertt, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Savage and Mr. and Mrs. Ward Petefish.

Ashland Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lohman have returned home from a vacation trip to Dallas, Texas, visiting with the former's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Ortunayer and family, and also his mother, Mrs. Annette Lohman, who is spending the winter with her daughter and family.

The following Rebekah members, Mrs. Artie Walker, Mrs. Edith Caswell, Mrs. Almada Watkins and Miss Lorena Bailey attended vice grand guest's night at the Beardstown lodge Monday night. Mrs. Caswell served as guest conductor.

Mrs. Robert Turner has left for Zweibrücken, Germany, to join her husband, who is in special communication group, to be stationed there for two years.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Lamkular returned home the fore part of the week from a few days visit in Sycamore at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Butzow and family.

SUMMER HAIL

The U.S. Weather Bureau explains how hail forms in summer by the fact that cold increases with altitude until the stratosphere is reached. On an average July day, water freezes at 2.75 miles and at six miles the temperature is a minus 30.5 degrees Fahrenheit.

WE GIVE EAGLE STAMPS

ON THE ROCKS—Army ceremonial guards from Ft. Meyer, Va., rappel their way down the cliffs at Great Falls Park on the Potomac north of Washington, D.C. Top to bottom are Sgt. 1/C Arthur Bailey, Lt. Donald Hilbert and Capt. Paul Lawrence. This is the "Old Guard's" ranger training. "Everybody thinks that the Old Guard does nothing but march at funerals and parade at the airport when the President goes away," one guardsman said. "Actually, this is the second year we've gone into the field."

Sportsmen Pose For CIPS Photos At Meredosia

MEREDOSIA—The Meredosia Sportsmen's Club held its regular meeting Thursday night, attended by 33 members and two guests. During the evening pictures were taken for the CIPS Co magazine, to illustrate the company's employees' participation in community activities.

Joe Schneider, the president, conducted the meeting. He called attention to the electric range, now repaired and hooked up, which had been mentioned at the last meeting. Since the Feb. 26 meeting, Knotty pine boards for refinishing the interior have been purchased and applied to walls of the large room; the kitchen will be finished soon.

Leonard Liehr made arrangements to borrow the club's projector and film scheduled for the March 26 meeting to show at a film meeting on March 25. The film ordered is "Freedom Highway."

Phillip Morris, Unit 11 coach, announced plans for an athletic dinner on March 25—a potluck at the grade school dining room and awarding of basketball and football letters.

The films shown was "Painted Canyons" by the Union Pacific. It showed a tour from Cedar City, Utah, through Grand Canyon, Zion National Park, Bryce Canyon and Cedar Break, Charles Brickley, Unit 11 junior high principal, asked to show the film to the sixth, seventh and eighth grades on Friday.

Refreshment committee for March 26 is Russell Kunzeman, Richard James and William Lawson.

Chel Young and W. G. Steinberg served fruit pie with ice cream and pop.

Return From Trip Monday Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sieving returned from several weeks vacation visiting friends in the south and staying in the southwest. They left by car January 23, stopping at Corpus Christi, Brownsville and Port Isabel on the Gulf coast and at El Paso. They spent two days at Harlingen and visited Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bartlett, former Meredosia residents, at Mercedes. After arriving at Mesa, Arizona, on January 31, they went sight-seeing to Scottsdale, Chandler, Apache Junction, Canyon Lake, Gilbert and Payson.

February 27, Mrs. Clyde Buchanan and Paul Sieving Jr. drove to Quincy, where Mr. Sieving took a train for Mesa to join his parents. On March 6 they started home, with Paul Jr. driving.

The Sievings are Cub fans; during their month in Mesa they watched games between the Cub farm teams and the Cub spring training games.

Literberry Club Has Annual Fun And Frolic Day

The Literberry Women's Club met recently at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Mallicoat for the annual Fun and Frolic Day. It began with a potluck dinner at noon. Mrs. John McGinnis, Mrs. Frank Ogilvie and Mrs. Fred Standley were on the domestic committee.

Mrs. Warren Daniel, president, called the meeting to order and led the group in the pledge to the flag. Miss Wilma Crum led in singing the hymn of the month, "I Love To Tell the Story." Mrs. Earl Rexroat is in charge of devotions.

The president announced the district meeting would be held April 13 at Grace Methodist church in this city. A collection was taken for the benefit of the March of Dimes and Heart Fund. Mrs. McGinnis, chairman of the ways and means committee, suggested each member donate $1.50 at the next meeting to help replenish the treasury.

The safety chairman, Miss Anabel Crum, reported there is material available for a combined program on Safety in the Home and Safety on the Highway.

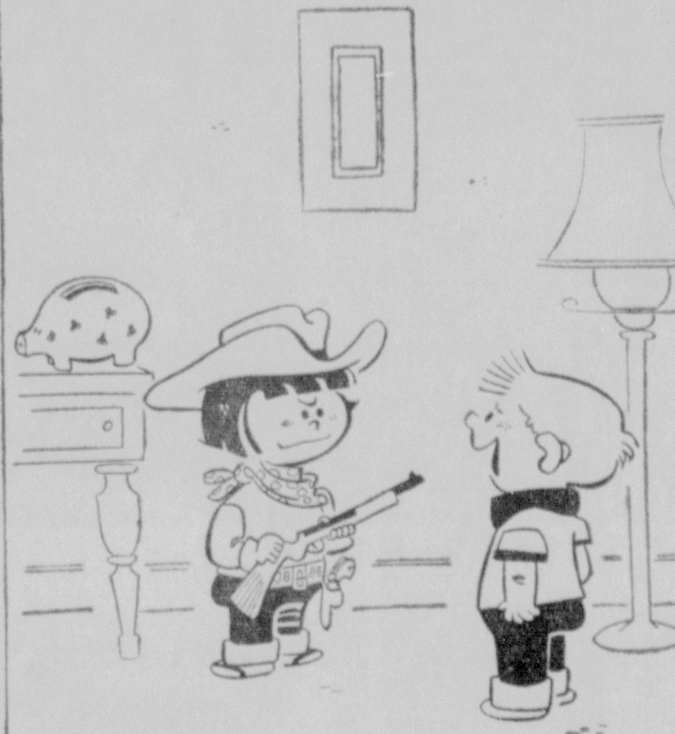

Mrs. Dewey Petefish, Mrs. Charles Smith and Mrs. Arnold Whittier served on the program committee. An auction was held and Mrs. Smith led the group in contests.

Guests present were Mrs. Clarence Mallicoat, Mrs. Dale Mawson and David, Mrs. Loren Burrus, Mrs. Verne Thomas, Mrs. Ireland Thompson, Mrs. Robert Daniel and Mrs. Edmund Dinwiddie.

The next meeting will be held at Hamilton's Cafe with Mrs. Logan Parry as hostess.

NEWMANSVILLE. ASHLAND PRECINCTS TO HAVE CONTESTS

ASHLAND — Seven supervisors will be elected to the county board April 7th, with contests only in Ashland and Newmansville.

S. D. Danenberger, Edgar Thornley, John McCarthy and Art Falls are the four candidates in Ashland for township supervisor.

Karl Hager is opposing Otto Neumann, incumbent for supervisor, in Newmansville township.

There are some contests for road commissioner. Ashland has four candidates out for road commissioner: Dale DeGroot, Walter Blakeman, Jesse A. Bennett and Delmar Mahy.

Bluff Springs has a three-way contest and there is a contest on in Sangamon Valley for road commissioner.

In Ashland the following are candidates for Justice of the Peace: John Hickey, Russell Graham and William Senters. Hamilton McCarthy and Homer Meyers are candidates for constable.

Brief News Notes

The Jennie James Circle of the local Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. Bernice Hayes on Thursday evening, at 8 p.m. The evening's program was in charge of Mrs. Jimmy Duling, after which refreshments were served by the hosts.

William E. Irvin, Seeman USN, son of Mrs. Irene Irvin of this city, is serving aboard the attack cargo ship USS Tulare operating with the US 7th Fleet in the Far East. During the second week in February, the Tulare returned units of the 12th Marine Regiment to Okinawa following the exercises in the Philippine Islands. While visiting Japan last month the ship's crew celebrated her third commissioning anniversary.

Mrs. Walter Ward Savage entertained the Centenary Community club at her home Wednesday afternoon. The afternoon's program was in charge of Mrs. LeRoy Klein and Mrs. Roy Monroe.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistant, Mrs. Carl Orne.

Mrs. J. Wm. Jones and Mrs. Carl Orne attended the district meeting of Women's Societies of Christian Service annual meeting held in Jacksonville Wednesday at the Grace Methodist church. The meeting started at 9:15 that morning. A luncheon was held at the noon hour.

EXPENSIVE JOB

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Talk about the two-pants suit. A store here made a suit with eight pairs for Johnny Bachem, Johnny does an act that requires him to jump from a piano to the stage, doing the splits. He uses up a pair of trousers a week.

DOUBLE PAIN

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Okla. (AP) — While in the field checking his cattle, J. A. Armitage was kicked by a cow. He grabbed a stick and whacked it across the animal's side. The stick broke and left a splinter in his hand, requiring a trip to the doctor.

Wednesday Library Day At Lutheran School

"Today is library day," is the remark made in homes of many pupils of Salem Lutheran school on Wednesdays and is the pleasant reminder to return books borrowed and gives enthusiasm toward added reading enjoyment. Two room mothers serve alternately as school librarians. Shown above with Mrs. Elmer Kleinschmidt last week are, L.R. Margene Farmer, eighth grade student; James Thies, second grade and Steve Werner, fifth grade pupils. Mrs. Donald Engebrecht is the other librarian at the school.

Throughout each Wednesday afternoon the library room is a buzz of activity as pupils return books and make new selections.

By Mrs. Arthur E. Hallerberg

The smallest children come first, eager to turn in the books just read. Over to their corner they hurry to choose their books. These are the slim books with the large typeface, few words and many pictures. These children are the "best customers," according to the librarians. When they depart each child usually has three and four books.

Next come pupils of intermediate grades and last those from the upper room. Some read a little before making their selections, others quickly take a book that seems to appeal. Some wait for other children to return a particularly "good" book so they can take it for the next week. Others ask, "Have you read this one?" or "this one is good!" Many leave the room reading as they return to their classrooms.

Permanent Library

The library, with attractive new shelves, contains the permanent school library. About 150 new books were added this year. Their bright covers stand out among the older, more worn books, though the pupils choose as readily from the older books as from the new.

The plan to have volunteer librarians present for the one afternoon was instituted this past fall. So far, at least, there is no question about the fact that the pupils are heartily in favor of Library Day and the privilege it brings.

Room Libraries

Actually the library is but one center for the books available to the pupils. As in the past, upper and intermediate classrooms have their own book centers. There are old and new sets of encyclopedias as well as other reference material.

There are also books from the Public Library, about 30 at a time in each of the rooms. Monthly the latter selection is changed, thus increasing the library offerings by more than 250 books per room during the school year. Appreciation for the helpful assistance from the librarians at the Public Library, as well as for the books selected, is frequently made by the teachers. The Public Library books also are checked out for home reading.

Pleasure in picture books and "story time" begins in the kindergarten room, Mrs. Norman Kramer, teacher. In the primary room the teacher, Mrs. G. Schone, often reads new stories as well as familiar ones children know and love.

In upper grades specific assignments in reference books are made to supplement text book and class work. Teachers Roy Lovkamp and Edward Lemmerman are encouraged to see pupils frequently read about other topics, in the encyclopedia, for example.

'Homework For Pupils' Discussed By Panel

A panel on "Homework or no Homework" was the program at the Lafayette P.T.A. on Tuesday night, March 10. J. A. Mann, superintendent of School District 117, was moderator.

Other panel members were Miss Lee Helm, principal of Lafayette school; Mrs. Nona Reed and Mrs. Harriet Milburn, teachers at Lafayette; Mrs. Isabel Weller, counselor in the Special Services Division of District 117; and John Agger, principal of Jacksonville high school.

Many opinions, pro and con, regarding homework were discussed with the audience participating in the discussion.

A delightful musical program was presented by Rayburn Pierce, string instrument teacher in District 117. He directed an ensemble composed of Pat Omondson, Glen Helwig, Candy Aiche, Wilmar Loesch, Mary Moore, Margaret Howard, and Nancy Pierce. These children, some of Mr. Pierce's second year string students from four different schools, played several selections. Mr. Pierce discussed string instruction in our school system.

The business meeting was opened by the pledge to the flag led by Dian Cruise, Girl Scout, and James Wood, Boy Scout. The meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Howard Choate. Several reports were made by various committees. Room count was won by Mrs. Wright and Mrs. Siegrist.

715 At Annual Dinner Of White Hall Co-Op

WHITE HALL — The annual meeting of the White Hall Co-operative Elevator Company was held Thursday night with a ham supper at 6:30 for 715 guests and members, at the First Baptist, Presbyterian, Methodist and Christian churches.

Following supper, the members adjourned to the high school where the program was held with R. A. Mansfield, president of the board of directors, serving as master of ceremonies. Other members of the board include J. R. Ash, vice president; A. R. McConathy, secretary; R. L. Davis, William Strang, G. E. Tunison, Byron McLamar and George B. Cummings, manager. The same board was re-elected to serve for the ensuing year.

A program was presented under the direction of Miss Lucille Miller, and consisted of vocal solos by Janet Beckett, and a group of musical numbers by a high school boys chorus. Ten door prizes were given and financial reports made for the year just ending which included patronage refund paid on grain purchases 2c per bushel; patronage refund on merchandise grain sold 1%, which totalled $19,451.00 returned to patrons; dividends paid to stock holders $2,796.00, and total business sales $1,494,201.00.

Debate Team In Contest

Members of the debate team of the local high school which took part in regional contest at Lincoln, Ill., on Saturday included affirmative, Phyllis Westnedge, Tom Alloway, Curtis Dicks; negative, Joyce Elliott and Steve Dhoades. Miss Klinefelter, of the high school faculty, was in charge of the group and feels much praise is due them as they were the smallest school represented and took part in the contest under great odds, winning second place tie with Western High School, Macomb, Ill. Lanphier High School, Springfield, won first place and in the play-off round between White Hall and Western High school to go to the state contest, Western came out victorious.

The local team competed in four debate rounds before the play-off round which determined which team would advance to the state contest.

View Travel Slides

During the past week, the members of the high school were entertained with a talk by William Fowler of Jacksonville, world traveler and lecturer. He showed slides taken on a recent world tour including Hawaii, the Buddha gardens of both Japan and India, Australia, views of the Holy Land, palaces of Iraq and Iran and modern buildings in Turkey.

The changing of the guard in England and the Blarney Stone in Ireland was also included on the interesting group of pictures.

POPULAR FELLOW

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — State Sen. Elmer Kinnaman took a dim view of some lobbying during the Wyoming Legislature.

He received a telegram, signed by about 35 Rawlins residents, urging him to support a bill being considered.

Among the signatures was his own name. He hadn't signed the petition.

CHAMPION COMMUTER — MARYVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Dale K. Russell spends $1,500 a year traveling to work. He lives 700 miles from his job.

Russell, 40, is a first officer for Pan American Airways, with headquarters in New York. Since 1957, Russell and his family have lived in his hometown of Maryville.

Russell, who has been with Pan-American 15 years, plans to continue his present schedule as long as is feasible.

He points out that despite the distance, he spends only 14 flight hours a month commuting. Which is less time than many who live much closer to their jobs spend in their cars.

LEGION AUXILIARY SUPPER WILL BE GIVEN TUESDAY

The regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary No. 279 has been changed to Tuesday evening, March 17. This meeting will be a potluck supper commemorating the Legion's 40th birthday. Auxiliary members are asked to bring a covered dish and their own table service.

Following the potluck supper at 6:30 p.m., the Auxiliary will hold a business meeting and then rejoin the Legion for a program of movies and dancing.

Henry Van Tuyle, NFO Man, Speaks To Bluffs Club

BLUFFS—The Bluffs Civic Club met Monday evening for their regular meeting. A baked chicken supper was served to 28 members and guests by the American Legion Auxiliary.

President, Hubert Gregory, opened the meeting and asked for a moment of silent prayer honoring M. C. Parker. Regular bills were allowed including one to the Bluffs library for books in memory of J. O. Chambers and M. C. Parker. Various committee reports were given.

Leroy Pond introduced Henry Van Tuyle, an officer in the National Farm organization, who spoke to the group on the need for farm legislation and farm problems of today.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Howland and family have moved into Mrs. James Montan's property on Route 100. They have sold their trailer home.

Gordon Lemme of Lexington, Ky., visited over the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Lemme. His family returned home with him.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kilver are enjoying a vacation in Florida. Their sons are staying with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kilver and Mrs. Emma Walters.

Mrs. Jay Albright and daughter, Mrs. Soleky of Paconia, Calif., left Monday for their home in California after being called to Bluffs by the death of her brother, M. C. Parker.

LONGER DEW LINE—Planned extension of the Distant Early Warning (DEW) line eastward across Greenland will give added protection against attack, according to the Defense Department. The 27-million-dollar extension (broken line) was agreed to by Denmark which owns Greenland. When completed, the radar warning system will extend from the Aleutian Islands, around Alaska, across Canada and over Greenland.

Routt Highlights

by Marilyn Cors and Elizabeth Curtis

Della Philathea Class Meets At Roodhouse

ROODHOUSE—The March meeting of the Della Philathea class of the First Baptist church was held in the church fellowship room, Thursday night, with Mrs. Hattie Lewis and her committee in charge of arrangements. Table decorations with the St. Patrick's Day theme were done by Mrs. Evelyn Cuddy of the hostess committee. Invocation was given by the teacher, Mrs. Claude Martin.

During the business session, presided over by the president, Miss Bernadine Lewis, the group voted to continue to serve the Rotary Club dinners every third month throughout the year.

Due to conflicts in dates, the April meeting will be held on the first Thursday night instead of on the usual second Thursday night.

Giving devotions was Mrs. Jim Shaw, who used as her topic, "The Role of One Individual."

Mrs. John Strain and Mrs. Ned Hopkins were co-hostesses to the Delta sorority Wednesday night at a meeting held in the Strain home. Prizes at bridge were awarded to Mesdames William H. Wolfe, Bill Ferguson, and Jim H. Orr. Mrs. Charles Sprague was a guest.

A late lunch was served to the group by the hostesses.

Mrs. R. G. Secor Ends Visit In Clarksville, Mo.

GREENFIELD—Mrs. R. Guy Secor has returned home after spending last week with her granddaughter, Ann Garner Long, in Clarksville, Mo. while her parents Lt. Gov. and Mrs. Edward V. Long were visiting in Texas. Lt. Gov. and Mrs. Long escaped injury Saturday when their plane made a forced landing on their trip.

Woman's Club Has Style Show At Arenzville

ARENZVILLE—A large crowd attended the style show at the Woman's club meeting on Tuesday evening at the school gymnasium. The preview of spring fashions was presented by Myers Brothers of Jacksonville. Commentary for the styles was presented by Mrs. Lucille Chandler who also discussed fashion trends of the year.

The ladies modeling were Mrs. Donald Busen, Mrs. Ralph Clark, Mrs. Farrell Hansmeier, Mrs. M. L. Hierman, Mrs. William Jones, Mrs. Fred Knight, Mrs. Harold Kruse, Mrs. Charles Schnitker, Mrs. J. A. Shannon, and Mrs. Ray Leon Schnitker. Models for the children's clothing were Trudy Schnitker, Barbara Hansmeier, Carolee Karmen, and Connie Kruse. Karmen, Linda and Tommie Busen, Rebecca Clark, and Bobby Hierman. Mrs. Farrell Cooper provided musical selections on the piano during the style show.

Mrs. Harold Kruse presided at the business meeting, which opened with the Club Prayer repeated in unison, followed by the pledge to the flag led by Mrs. Charles $501 For Polio Fund Mrs. M. L. Hierman, Public Health chairman reported $501.63 was collected in the recent March of Dimes campaign, which was sponsored by the Woman's Club. She reminded the members that the Cancer drive will be made during April, which is also sponsored by the Woman's Club. Mrs. Jack Burrus reported 33 dozen cookies were sent to Marquette Boys Home in February.

Mrs. Robert Brasel, chairman of Indian Affairs, gave a report, and also stated she had mailed 22 Betty Crocker coupons which will be used for silverware. Anyone having these coupons may contact Mrs. Brasel.

Mrs. Kruse announced the 20th District Illinois Federation of Women's Club convention will be held at Jacksonville on April 13. Due to a conflict of dates the Cass County meeting date has been changed from March 16 to April 23, and will be held at Virginia. Anyone wishing to sing in the District Chorus will please contact Mrs. Florence Noble.

Twenty-eight members answered roll call with "A Benefit delivered from my Club." Mrs. Aldo Hierman was in charge of the program, and the group joined in singing the hymn, "Christ the Lord is Risen Today," led by Mrs. Willard Peck, with Mrs. Kruse at the piano.

Mrs. Olive Williams, American Home chairman, introduced Mrs.

Florence Noble, who modeled the dress she had entered in the Vogue sewing contest.

St. Patrick's Refreshments

Dainty refreshments in keeping with the St. Patrick's Day theme were served from a table covered with a white lace cloth over green, featuring a centerpiece of an Irish harp and shamrocks, with green candles in crystal candelabra.

Hostesses were Mrs. Henry Zulauf, Mrs. Virgil Bartelheim, Mrs. Florice Noble, Mrs. Warden Cowen, and Mrs. Carl Thornley.

Daughters Will Entertain Dads At MacMurray

MacMurray College dads are invited by their daughters to give way to the temptations of Spring Fever and get away from it all by visiting the college on traditional Dads' Day, Thursday and Friday, March 19-20.

Their daughters have planned for them several water-shows, a dance and band concert. Sondra Search, a MacMurray senior from White Hall, Ill., is a member of Cap and Gown Society sponsoring Dads' Day, which begins at 5:30 Thursday with registration.

This year's theme is Spring Fever, with the MacQuatics reflecting this theme in their first watershow Thursday at 4 p.m. The MacMurray Dad's Club has scheduled its annual dinner meeting for 6 p.m., Thursday, with dad's of students in both colleges welcome. During this dinner, any mothers who have come along also will eat with their daughters in McClelland hall.

Another water-show will be presented at 8 p.m., Thursday, along with a concert by the MacMurray College Band later that evening.

At 9:15 p.m., the YWCA is sponsoring the Dads and Daughters Dance to be held in Main Social room. While dads dance to the music of "The Blackstock Combo"—a trio of MacMurray men—and enjoy chatting and refreshments, the mothers will be entertained at the home of President Louis W. Norris.

Wed In East

Mr. and Mrs. Donald B. McNabb

A Jacksonville girl, Miss Shirley Jeanne Hipkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hipkins, 1037 Beesley avenue, became the bride of Donald Bruce McNabb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman G. McNabb, Peru, Kansas, on Valentine's Day at the Methodist Chapel, Fort Belvoir, Virginia, where the bridegroom is stationed with the Army.

Miss Marilyn Ann Busch, Alexandria, Virginia and Francis S. Hoban, Jr., also stationed at Fort Belvoir, attended the couple.

The bride wore a white linen street length dress with three-quarter sleeves, high neckline with Peter Pan collar and buttons at the front bodice to the waist. She carried white carnations.

Miss Busch wore blue with navy accessories and carried pink carnations.

The newlyweds left the East after the ceremony and visited relatives in Kansas and Oklahoma. Mrs. McNabb is presently making her home in this city with her parents while her husband is in service.

'Family Doctor' Is Afraid He'll Have No Successors

"FAMILY DOCTOR" LONNIE COFFIN: "We need a man with a sense of mission."

By NEA Service FARMINGTON, Iowa (AP)—(NEA)—America's "family doctor" of 1959 fears that if the medical profession doesn't change there won't be anyone to hold the title after his generation is gone.

Dr. Lonnie A. Coffin, 68, has been ministering to the needs of the people in and around Farmington for 44 years, and he's concerned that his 3,000 patients may someday not have a doctor close at hand.

"When I came to Farmington back in 1914, he said, "there were five doctors. Today I'm the only one."

"Good roads and automobiles, of course, have made things easier—most people are only 30 minutes from a doctor's office—but the question is: when they get there will the doctor have time to see them?"

"Too often the answer is no, and a stomach ache isn't going to wait three weeks for an appointment."

Dr. Coffin, who was named General Practitioner of the Year by the American Medical Association last December, has been attempting to prepare for his retirement.

"For the past two or three years," he said, "I've been trying to get somebody to come to Farmington and set up practice, somebody to compete with me and eventually take over. Every young man I've asked has grinned sheepishly and turned me down."

"We need a man who likes people and wants to work with them, who sees everyone when they're sick and need him, a man with a sense of mission."

Dr. Coffin, who treats 80 per cent of his cases without the help of specialists, believes "the medical profession has become too highly specialized for the good of all the people."

He suggests medical schools must sharply emphasize training for a career in general practice. Despite the changes he'd like to see in the medical profession, Dr.

Coffin does not believe in federal intervention. But he does believe firmly in voluntary health organizations, such as The National Foundation. He has a particular interest in the latter.

In 1950, Farmington was hit with a polio epidemic. Twenty-six persons, including three of his four grandchildren, were stricken. One of the boys was left with a damaged arm.

Since the Salk vaccine became available in 1956, Dr. Coffin has spearheaded the vaccination drive in Van Buren county.

The doctor suffers from spinal arthritis, one of the two new fields the Foundation has moved into. The other is birth defects.

"We need more voluntary health organizations," he said. "They help keep the government out of the health business."

The arthritis and a heart attack a few years ago have slowed the doctor down a bit. He puts about 18,000 miles a year on his car now. It used to be closer to 30,000.

One thing that has changed little over the years is Dr. Coffin's fees. Including the cost of drugs, he dispenses, he charges three dollars for a call at his office, four dollars for a house visit during the day and five dollars for a house visit at night.

"I never charge that five dollars though," he explains. "It's nobody's fault if he's sick at night."

MARINE COMFORT

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C. (AP)—Marines who like to boast about the "old corps" won't believe this.

Air conditioned classrooms have been installed in three barracks at this Marine recruit depot, which is well known for its torrid sticky summer days.

It's part of the depot's so-called new look program, a far cry from the days of the "old corps."

Hibbs, Ashland Area School Bus Driver, Scalded

ASHLAND — Henry Hibbs, driver of one of the school buses, had his right ankle seriously scalded when the heater hose came loose as he started out on his round to gather up the country school children.

Hibbs had gathered up just four children. He treated his ankle with first aid himself, and then completed his round.

Due to the anti-freeze in the hose, he is now under severe pain, and is not able to work as a bus driver nor at the Hexter "Dry Goods store."

Has 92nd Birthday

Mrs. Mary Wuhl of Wood River spent the middle of the week here with her father, D. H. McCready. Mr. McCready was 92 years old on March 4, and he is very spry for his age.

Brief News Notes

The third meeting of the Ashland Topnotchers was held at the home of Nathalia Chatara. A demonstration was given by Sue Dorsett on "How to Bake Rolled Sugar Cookies." After a business meeting, games were played, and refreshments were served.

Rev. and Mrs. Wayne Brackett and Mrs. Arlene Satorius attended the West Central Association meeting of the Baptist churches held in Manchester Thursday.

Several members of the First Baptist church attended the Baptist Missionary rally held at the First Christian church in Springfield, on Tuesday night. Missionaries from 11 foreign missionary areas, board officials and staff members of the American Baptist Foreign Mission Societies, were also present.

Art Falls of the State of Illinois Department of Public Safety, will address the Cass County Women's Republican club at their monthly meeting on Monday night, March 16, at 8 p.m. The meeting will be held in the American Legion hall in this city, with the Ashland members of the club acting as hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Summers have returned home from a several days visit in Mt. Pulaski at the home of the former's sister, Miss Jane Summers. On their return home they visited in Sherman with another sister, Mr. and Mrs. David Anderson and family, for a couple of days.

Mrs. Blanche Orr is visiting in Ferguson, Mo., at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Grogan.

INJURED AT FIELDON

JERSEYVILLE — Richard L. Murray of Jerseyville escaped with minor injuries in an automobile accident on Route Number 16 in the Village of Fieldon about 6:30 p.m. Thursday.

The accident occurred when Murray's 1959 Chevrolet went out of control and struck a service line pole at the side of the highway. State Police officer Rutger Peters Jr. of the Hardin vicinity was called to handle the traffic situation.

Rossini's comic opera, "The Barber of Seville," was first performed in Rome in 1816.

New York Stock Market

By ED MORSE
AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market churned ahead to successive record highs this week despite losses among some leading oils and motors.

The so-called glamor stocks went to the fore again, some of them making tremendous gains. Besides the electronic-missile rocket group there were solid gains among such old standbys as utilities, steels and coppers.

Volume for the week soared to 21,187,160 shares compared with 21,018,300 in the prior week. Both totals were the biggest for any week since the week ended last Oct. 18, when 24,402,570 shares were traded.

While the pressure of funds for investment from institutional sources such as mutual funds, pension funds, insurance companies and the like remained consistent, brokers also reported a stepped-up volume of orders from the general public.

The market background included such items as these:

Steel production at a record high for a single week; sales of new cars for January and February at a record total; President Eisenhower's indication that any war over the Berlin crisis would be a nuclear combat rather than a ground war; the President's proclamation of mandatory oil import curbs for petroleum and his order for oil price policing; turmoil in oil-rich Iraq; higher copper prices; increasing interest rates.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose $3.10 to $225.50. This average hit new records on four straight days.

The U.S. Government and corporate bond markets declined this week in reaction to credit curbs by the Federal Reserve.

Volume for the week totaled only $97,888,700 per value on the New York Stock Exchange. This was down from $40,036,000 the previous week but up from $23,611,000 for the corresponding week in 1958.

Chicago Livestock Market Report

CHICAGO (AP)—(USDA)—Here is a summary for the week of the hog, cattle and sheep markets with estimated receipts for today:

Hogs 100; for the week: At the close several hundred No 1 and 2 butchers under 220 lbs brought 16.35-16.75 with mixed No 1 to 3 190-230 lbs at 16.00-16.35 and most mixed No 2 and 3 240-280 lbs 15.50-16.00. A small volume mostly No 3 upwards to 320 lbs ranged downward to 14.75 and most 350-550 lb sows closed at 12.75-14.00. Mostly 100; for the week: Five loads mostly prime 1135-1350 lb slaughter steers 33.00-33.50, latter price highest since last June, however, general steers market highest since last May, better than a dozen loads mostly prime 1050-1350 lb steers 32.25-32.75, bulk choice and prime steers all weights 28.00-32.00, most loads of choice steers late at 28.50 carried a good end, numerous loads mixed good and low choice steers 27.50-28.25, bulk good grades, 26.00-27.25, standard steers 25.50-26.75, loadlots mixed standard and low good weighing up to 1200 lbs 25.50 and 26.75, loadlots high choice and mixed choice and prime heifers 27.75-29.50, good to average choice heifers 24.50-28.50, bulk 25.00-28.25, utility and standard heifers 20.00-24.50. Few standard cows 21.00-23.00, utility and commercial cows closed at 18.50-21.50, canners and cutters late 16.50-19.50, utility and commercial cows closed at 22.50-25.00. Standard and good vealers 27.00-34.00, few good and choice 34.00-35.00, cull and utility vealers largely 15.00-26.00.

Sheep none; for the week: At the close bulk good and choice 90-113 lb woolled slaughter lambs 21.50-22.00 early in the week bulk good and choice 90-110 lb woolled slaughter lambs 20.00-21.50. Late sales mostly choice 125-130 lbs 20.50-21.00. Scattered lots cull and utility 17.00-21.25. Cull to choice slaughter ewes mostly 7.00-9.00, few 9.50.

CHICAGO (AP)—The general level of butcher hog prices climbed slowly until Thursday this week then lost the gains on fairly heavy offerings Friday.

By Thursday, the average cost of all barrows and gilts was up to $16.14, the highest in more than a month. With supplies at the 12 major markets the smallest since last November, shipping demand improved somewhat here but it was described as still seasonably narrow.

However, local packers were good buyers throughout the week and it was that volume which maintained a steady market for barrows and gilts at the close.

The cattle supply which was the largest in six weeks included a smaller percentage of slaughter steers and some prime offerings of this class were bid up to $33.50 a hundredweight, the highest price since last June.

Monday's run was the smallest of the year for that day while the Wednesday supply was the largest for the year since January.

Slaughter steers were strong to $1 higher for the week with choice and prime grades over 1.200 lbs showing most of the advance.

Sheep supplies were 35 per cent larger than for the previous week and were about 80 per cent woolled slaughter lambs. However, this class advanced $1.25-1.50. Shorn kinds gained $1-1.50 and ewes were mostly $1 higher.

Buyers continued giving preference to weights under 110 lbs which sold generally at 50 cents to $1.50 above comparable grades of heavier weights and even some of the higher grade heavier offerings.

WEEK'S GRAINS GAIN IN SPECULATIVE, TECHNICAL TRADING

By GIL MAYO

AP Business News Writer
CHICAGO (AP)—Grain futures brokers on the Board of Trade appeared this week to have priced themselves out of some competitive commercial advantage on broad advances for December contracts.

It was rather significant that the steep climbs were made almost entirely on so-called technical and speculative trading. Domestic commercial demand was not more than moderate at any time and export business was small although a large volume of potential export sales developed for which some buying was known to have taken place in the wheat pit.

The military uprising in Iraq set off a mild flurry early in the week but it was cancelled out the following day as prices settled back in about the same range as the advance that was attributed to it.

Thereafter, the market reacted primarily to alternate short-covering and profit-taking as evening up of commitments increased in volume on March contracts. Trading in March will expire next Thursday.

Wheat futures were 1-1/2 cents a bushel higher, March $2.08; corn 2-1/2 higher to 1.05; March old type contract $1.17; oats 1-1/2 higher, March 65-1/2; rye 1-1/2 cents higher, March $1.43; and soybeans 1 - 2-1/2 higher, March $22-1/2.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose $3.10 to $225.50. This average hit new records on four straight days.

The U.S. Government and corporate bond markets declined this week in reaction to credit curbs by the Federal Reserve.

Volume for the week totaled only $97,888,700 per value on the New York Stock Exchange. This was down from $40,036,000 the previous week but up from $23,611,000 for the corresponding week in 1958.

The large trophy displayed was awarded the group for "Club of the Year", Morgan County. Rollin Martin and Richard DeOrnellas are the leaders of the North Side 4-H Ag Club, which has a membership of 45. The organization was honored for winning the "Club of the Year Award, Morgan County" and first prize in the window display, with a banquet at the N. Jacksonville School on March 11th.

The Club is very active in Community affairs and hopes to duplicate the awards next year.

Candidates File For School Board In Greene-Jersey

JERSEYVILLE — Mrs. Janet Gorski of Jerseyville has filed her petition as a candidate for membership on the Board of Education of Community Unit District 100, Jersey and Greene counties.

Other candidates who have filed are Roy "Sam" Powers of Jerseyville, Hubert Mourning of Kane and Chris Ringhausen of Jerseyville, all of whom are now serving on the board.

Ringhausen is a candidate to fill the one-year unexpired term of A. H. Schlottzauer who resigned when the family moved from Jerseyville, which post he is now filling by appointment. The other candidates are seeking a three year term.

Only three members are to be elected this year, one for a partial term for which Ringhausen is a candidate and the others for a three year term. According to the law only three members from the same township may serve on the board at the same time.

Members of the board whose terms do not expire are: Al Schlepp of Jerseyville, Avery Gay and William Wieland of Grafton and Max A. Griffith of Fieldon.

The last day for candidates to file is March 21 and petitions may be secured from the unit office. The election will be on April 11 from twelve noon to seven p.m.

James Hamilton Wins Greene Spelling Bee

The third annual Greene County spelling bee was held Friday evening at the Carrollton Grade school, Twenty - nine children were entered from Greene County schools.

First place was awarded to 13-year-old James Hamilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hamilton of Carrollton. James is an eighth grade student in Jack Bertman's room.

Second place was given to Alinda Reavis, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Reavis of Eldred, and an eighth grade student of Harle C. Corbett.

The turning point came as Alinda misspelled the word "encompassed." James went on to spell this word and the one immediately following it, "epitaph." Other words spelled included fatiguing, mimicked, menagerie and trafficking.

The spelling contest is sponsored by Mrs. Jane Wright Murgatroyd, district manager of Field Enterprises World Book, through the cooperation of the county superintendents of schools in Greene, Cass, Scott, Macoupin, Morgan and Jersey counties.

Finals for the district winners will be held at Jonathan Turner Junior High School on April 24. The winners of this contest will receive a white set of the World Book encyclopedia; second place, a red set.

The first place winners in each county will receive a trip to Washington, D.C.

FLAGPOLE SITTER, LEAVES PERCH
INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—"I'm glad it's all over," said 17-year-old Mauri Rose Kirby, as she came down from her lofty perch Saturday, claiming a new flagpole sitting record of 211 days, 9 hours.

The carhop was lowered from a 71-foot tower in a buson's chair attached to a derrick.

"I'm going to try my best to dance what she wanted to do now that she was back on the ground. And my first dance is going to be the guitar boogie shuffle."

During her long stay in a wooden hut on the tower, Miss Kirby had a tooth pulled and weathered temperatures of 13 degrees below zero.

The average night game attendance in the American League last season was 14,703.

EXPECT MACMILLAN, LIKE AGREEMENT ON NEGOTIATIONS

which will be up for discussion when Macmillan and he open their conference Friday. The two men will talk at Eisenhower's retreat, Camp David, near Thurmont, Md.

Macmillan is expected here at midday Thursday and may call on alling Secretary of State John Foster Dulles at Walter Reed Medical Center that afternoon.

The British leader, who has completed a series of talks with Khrushchev, East German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, and French President Charles de Gaulle, will be accompanied by Eisenhower's principal advisers in the Camp David conference are expected to include Herter and the assistant secretary for European affairs, Livingston T. Mohr.

London dispatches have represented Macmillan as cool now in the face of a real disengagement, meaning removal of Soviet and Western forces from German, Polish and Czech territory.

Eisenhower is reported strongly opposed to any disengagement except as it might accompany a step-by-step program of action toward the merging of East and West Germany into a single country.

Eisenhower is expected to tell Macmillan the United States believes any change in the status of Berlin must be linked to measures for German unification. For example, one idea which has come up in Allied diplomatic talks is that if some kind of true confederation machinery could be set up covering East and West Germany and acceptable to both, its headquarters might be in Berlin.

According to this speculative possibility, the West German government might then move its headquarters to Berlin. Alternatively, the East German government might remove its capital from Berlin and give the whole city—instead of just West Berlin—a special character which the garisons of the Big Four powers would guarantee by their presence.

termination not to yield one inch on Berlin. But he said he thinks Eisenhower spoke in the sense "we will not give one inch on Berlin unless there are concessions on the other side that would justify it."

"If a free corridor could be established, free of any inspection and with a complete line of access to Berlin, coupled with some form of international control of Berlin, I think that might be an offer very seriously to be considered," Fulbright said.

Harry Grayson's SCOREBOARD

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

MIAMI, Fla.—(NEA)—In view of what he accomplished with the material at hand, it is rather surprising to hear that Paul Richards may be in trouble in Baltimore.

Oddly enough, the difficulty seems to stem from what Richards has constantly preached against—throwing money around loosely to totally untied kids.

A fat man from New York sat beside us as we watched the Orioles work at Miami Stadium. He talked like a highly articulated dissenting stockholder and it turned out he was.

"That Richards," he said, disdainfully, "he gave that Nicholson $125,000 and the boy can't run or hit Little League pitching."

"This is the last year of Richards' contract. He wanted to move into the front office and bring in Fred Hutchinson or George Kell as manager, but the directors hired Lee MacPhail of the Yankees to put the club on a business basis. The brewers and others who own this club have been generous. We drew well even while dropping from fifth to sixth place, but the club still lost $35,000.

"Richards asked that a special position be created for him. He wanted to be a sort of roving scout and good will ambassador, which would be great work if you could get it at $45,000 a year."

Queried about it, Richards vehemently defended the signing of Dave Nicholson, the big 19-year-old outfielder. He had been sought by a number of major league clubs when his St. Louis high school class was graduated in January of last year.

"The only ones who don't like Nicholson are those who want him," snapped the one-time Boy Wonder of Waxahachie, despite the fact that the youngster had to be dropped from A to B to D and wound up with a composite batting average of .322.

Shouting and signaling managerial orders from the dugout, Richards pointed out more than 20 lads designated as outstanding prospects.

"All of them got bonuses," he said. "That's the only way you can get good looking kids today. We put out $700,000 in bonus money last year and still ranked 13th in that department, ahead of only Washington and the two Chicago clubs."

Richards expects Willie Tasby, a 26-year-old Negro, to start in center field and Fred Valentine, a 24-year-old Negro, to play at least part time along side of him. Tasby led the American Association in total bases batting .322. Valentine was the Player of the Year in the B Carolina League.

But deals brought the Orioles Chico Carrasquel, Billy Klaus, Whitey Lockman, Bobby Avila, Jim Finigan and Ernie Johnson, all of whom have been around more than somewhat.

Carrasquel is to open at shortstop, backed by Klaus and Willie Miranda. Lockman will relieve Bobby Boyd at first base and be useful in the outfield. Avila gets a whack at third base, where Finnigan belongs and Brooks Robinson will play, if he hits. Richards hopes to get a final effort out of Johnson, the former Braves' relief worker.

"We were lacking in infield hitting and a bench," explained the old catcher.

Look for a comeback or two, for rehabilitating broken down ball-players, especially pitchers, is the best thing Richards does. Jack Harshman, Arnold Portocarrero and Hoyt Wilhelm were classic examples last trip.

He likes the bonus outfielders, Leo Burke, who also plays third base, and Angelo Dagres and Barry Shetrone. He calls Ronnie Hansen a wonderful shortstop, rates Jerry Adair only a step behind. Wayne Causey was considered the slickest shortstop in the American Association the last half of last season. Bert Barth, pitcher, first baseman and outfielder, has definite possibilities. Buddy Barker only has to wake up at first base.

"And no other club has such a depth of potentially great pitchers," stressed Richards. Billy O'Dell is only 26, Portocarrero 27 and Milt Pappas won 10 games for the Orioles at 18. Other young pitchers singled out are Jerry Walker, Ron Moeller, Wesley Stock, Jack Fisher, Chuck Estrada, Steve Dalkowski, Rolf Schell, Dick Fitzgerald, Johnny Papa, Jerry Alford, Dick Hunt and Buster Narum.

"The trouble is that this club is a year or two away," concluded Paul Richards.

That is always the case when an outfit is building from rock bottom.

It's always a year or two away. Usually, that is too long.

GARDNER STILL SCORING

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—Cal Gardner, who dropped out of the National Hockey League in 1937 after 12 seasons with New York, Toronto, Chicago and Boston, still is racking up goals in the game's top minor league.

The 34-year-old Gardner has topped the 20-goal mark with Providence of the American Hockey League for the second season in a row. Last year, he netted 24 as playing coach of the AHL's Springfield Indians.

First major fire in America took place in 1698—it burned out the entire settlement of Jamestown, Va.

WINNING FORM—Early Wynn is 39 now, but he's still a workhorse on the mound, even when throwing batting practice for the Chicago White Sox at Tampa, Fla. Early, 14-16 last year, puts his 6-foot, 198-pound body squarely behind his deliveries.

Banks Could Be Last NL Player To Take MVP Honors

By JIM KENSIL

Associated Press Sports Writer
Ernie Banks, an MVP with an HR bat, could become the first National League player to win the award in consecutive seasons. The Chicago Cubs shortstop was the '58 most valuable player on the strength of 47 home runs, 129 RBI and 379 total bases which brought him the NL slugging crown.

Mickey Mantle (1956-57) is one of two New York Yankees to win the AL MVP award two straight years. Catcher Yogi Berra did it in 1954-55. Other AL repeaters were slugger Jimmy Foxx of the Philadelphia Athletics (1932-33) and the great left-hander of the Detroit Tigers, Hal Newhouse (1944-45).

Never much of a spring hitter until last year, Ernie signaled what could be another big year when he belted a pair of three-run homers Friday as the Cubs out-slugged the Giants 16-12 in an exhibition game at Mesa, Ariz. Mantle and four other Yanks—Norm Siebern, Bobby Richardson, Bill Skowron and Elston Howard—homered as New York defeated Detroit 14-8 at Lakeland.

A three-run inside-the-park shot by Pirate Bill Virdon was wasted as Kansas City turned back Pittsburgh 8-3 at Fort Myers. Baltimore beat Cincinnati 6-2 at Tampa with Gene Woodling homering for the Orioles and Ed Bailey for the Reds.

Pitching was the key at Bradenton where Early Wynn and two Chicago rookies, Rudolph Arias and Claude Raymond, combined to two-hit the Milwaukee Braves 7-1 for the White Sox.

Don Blasingame delivered a two-run double with two out in the eighth, insuring to bring in the decisive runs in a 5-3 St. Louis victory over Philadelphia at St. Petersburg.

Fight Results

NEW YORK (Madison Square Garden)—Yama Eubama, 133, Bahama, outpointed Willie Greaves, 160, Edmonton, Alta. 10. SANTIAGO, Chile.—Sergio Salvia, 134, Chile, knocked out Pedro Gallasso, 133, Brazil, 3.

The East defeated the West, 113-104, in the first National Industrial Basketball League all star game in 1958.

Ireland's Ron Delany won five IC4A indoor track titles during his last three years at Villanova.

The Philadelphia-Kansas City Athletics have finished in first division only twice in the last 25 American League seasons.

Fifteen Downstate Prep Teams Swing Into Action Tuesday

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Fifteen downstate Illinois high school basketball teams swing into action Tuesday night in first round playoffs for the state crown defended by Marshall of Chicago.

Marshall, first Chicago team to capture the title, was the first to win the right to defend it this year on the state-wide level in the "Sweet Sixteen."

Winners of the eight first round games Tuesday will advance to quarter-final contests at Champaign Friday. Semifinals and finals will be held Saturday.

Marshall's Commandos, with a record of only three losses in 28 games, share prominence in the elite group with the two top-rated downstate outfits, Galesburg and Herrin.

Herrin, like Springfield and Ottawa, is returning to the arena of the Sweet Sixteen for the third year in a row.

Along with Marshall, Fulton and West Aurora are 1958 repeaters.

Canada Defeats U.S. In Amateur Hockey Meet

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP)—Canada defeated the United States 4-1 in the World Amateur Hockey Championships Saturday and virtually clinched the title for a second straight year. Only lowly Czechoslovakia remains on the schedule of the unbeaten Canadians.

The defeat was the second for the U.S. team which now has completed its five-game schedule in the final round and rests temporarily in a second-place tie with Russia.

The Russians, however, are an almost certain winner in Sunday's game with Sweden. A Soviet triumph would send the United States to third. The Czech-Canadian game closes the tourney Sunday.

Russia moved into second-place deadlock Saturday by defeating Finland 6-1.

In other games Saturday West Germany won the consolation prize by downing Switzerland 6-0. Norway beat East Germany 4-1 and Italy finished its schedule with a 5-2 triumph over Poland.

Canada, whose amateur lineup boasted at least five athletes who had played in the professional national hockey league, counted once each in the first two periods and twice in the third. Not until the final minute was the U.S. team able to score.

Rantoul is distinguished as the only unbeaten club in the field. Marshall's height, speed and sharpshooting will be tested first at Evanston by Waukegan, a hot team with a less attractive record.

However, Waukegan's adherents point out that the Bulldogs haven't dropped a game since fumbling five out of their first six.

The winner will advance against the winner at Salem, where Centuria (24-5) tackles Madison (15-11). Madison has overcome its underdog role in late season games, coming up with surprise after surprise.

Galesburg's once-beaten Streaks seek to make West Rockford a 27th victim at Moline. West, stopped only four times in 25 efforts, produced its best games against favorites, using them as stepping stones to the finals.

Galesburg would face Herrin, also a loser only once, if the Tiersers overcome Benton (19-10) at West Frankfort. Since Herrin has already beaten Benton twice, a Herrin emergence is likely, but Benton has been gaining strength.

Another once-beaten favorite, Springfield, takes its own floor against Macomb, reversed four times in 27. Springfield must take Macomb for a 30th win to gain a berth in the quarter finals against the winner at Peoria.

With Peoria Central (26-3) and Ottawa (24-7) in the lineup there, Central has the edge. After a few missteps, the Peorians overshadowed one competitor after another over their eighth game this season.

Thornton of Harvey stands high in esteem with only two losses in 29 games, but at Hinsdale the forecast is for a tough battle with West Aurora, (19-6). Thornton had a long streak interrupted recently by Bloom, a team which West also bowed to by a close score.

The victor faces the team coming out of a tossup at Decatur, where Rantoul shoots for its 32nd triumph in a row and Taylorville tries to better its 24-6 record to keep its bid going.

Foul Weather Halts Play In Pensacola Open

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—Strong winds and heavy rains Saturday forced postponement of the third round of the $15,000 Pensacola Open Golf Tournament. The closing 36 holes will be played Sunday, weather permitting.

Paul Harney, the long driver from Worcester, Mass., holds the halfway lead with 69-65-134, 10 under par.

This was the third straight tournament of the winter pro golf circuit to be hampered by weather. The other two were the Baton Rouge Open and the New Orleans Open.

About one-third of the field had completed play when officials halted competition.

Bill Collins of Baltimore, Md., winner of the New Orleans title, lost a fine round in Saturday's washout.

Cubs Lose Slants Of Drabowsky For A Month

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—Of all the things that could happen to the Chicago Cubs this spring, losing a starting pitcher would certainly be among those least likely to provoke ear-splitting hilarity.

Well, the Cubs may not have lost young Moe Drabowsky altogether. But he isn't lost he's at least missing.

Drabowsky, a 23-year-old right-hander who missed practically half of last season because of an injury, ran into trouble again at Tucson Thursday. While batting against Cleveland's Mike Garcia, Moe got hit on the right thumb. X-rays showed a fracture.

"It's kind of difficult to say right now how long I'll be out," he said. "But one estimate is three weeks. I'd have an opportunity to do some running before then, but it would take pretty close to a month after those three weeks before I could go six or eight innings."

"The thumb is broken right at the edge of the nail. It's above the joint so it's not too bad. If it had been farther down it could have been disastrous."

Cub Manager Bob Scheffing remarked recently that Drabowsky's injury seemed to coincide with a sharp decline in quality of Cub pitching last season. He'd hate to see another coincidence like that.

Sectional Finals

By STAN SPOTTS

SPRINGFIELD — Ray Page's Senators had their best night of the season as they hit at a .550 clip to down Jacksonville High in the Springfield Sectional finals Friday night, 59-54, before 5,500 screaming fans. After a mediocre first period for JHS, the Crimsos battled back to give the Solons a real fight.

It was a thrilling contest for the next three quarters and the issue wasn't decided until the final 18 seconds of play when Lynn Neff sank two clutch free throws to give Springfield the final 59-54 margin.

The victory enabled Springfield to climb into the "Sweet Sixteen" for the 15th time in the school's history and it was their 29th triumph in 30 starts, the best record ever compiled by a Springfield aggregation.

Springfield capitalized on every "break" but their biggest break came in the first period as they hit 8 of 13 attempts to go ahead by 13 after eight minutes of play, 18-5. Tommy Cole, who couldn't miss in the first chapter, hit five field goals and one free throw to spark the attack.

Jacksonville's only lead came on Mike Hudson's field goal 50 seconds after the opening tip. Springfield's George Mathis tied it 2-all by 6:50 remaining and then Cole's layup broke the tie and put Springfield ahead to stay with 5:10 left to play in the first quarter.

The Crimsos collected only a single free throw in the next six minutes and 10 seconds of play and by the time they hit their first field goal, Springfield was leading, 16-3.

Use Court Press

Jacksonville came out with a full-court press in the second and to this tended to throw Springfield off balance. The Crimsos began closing the gap in the final three minutes before halftime on a bucket and free throw by Jim Keller. With 20 seconds remaining, Mike Hudson drove in for a layup and hit it and was fouled in the process. He added his free throw and JHS trailed by three at the half-way mark, 32-29.

Closest Threat

The Crimsos applied the pressure in the third chapter to stay within striking distance of the lead. The biggest threat to the Solon lead came on successive buckets by Mike Hudson and Dave Bone. With five minutes left in the frame, Bone hit a layup and Jacksonville trailed by one, 34-33. But the Senators rallied and forged into a six point lead after three periods, 44-38.

Final Plunge

Jacksonville played lousy ball for two and a half minutes of the fourth quarter and they let the Senators out-play them in every category. Springfield led by 12, 52-40, with 5:30 left in the championship tilt but Jacksonville seemed to get its second breath and they put on a torrid finish.

With 1:55 left to go, Jacksonville's Dave Bone connected to slice the deficit to two points, 54-52. Springfield's Pelham scored for a 56-52 spread but Jacksonville still had a crack at the win. Mike Hudson hit the first of a one and one bonus shot but missed on the second try. Substitute Roger Trier then missed on a one and one bonus shot. The Senators used a free throw by Mathis with :44 seconds left for a 57-53 lead. With 30 seconds remaining, Hudson hit another free throw and one and one bonus shot and that was the end of Jacksonville's scoring. Neff's two charity tosses with 18 seconds to go wrapped up the scoring.

Couldn't Miss

It was probably Springfield's best offensive showing of the season as far as percentages go. They hit 14 of 23 in the first half for 60 per cent and wound up with a game mark of 55 per cent by hitting 23 of 42 attempts. Coach Ray Cramer of Waukegan said it was tough defense. They were truly great in hurrying the Crimsos' shots and many of the attempts were knocked down before they ever got into flight. This one big factor carried Ray Page's crew to its third straight sectional crown.

JHS Hot And Cold

At times, the Crimsos played good enough to win. But they also played erratic and made too many mistakes. It was a small miracle that they were able to bounce back after spotting the state's third ranked team a 16-3 spread. The officiating was for the "birds." They were inconsistent in their calls against both teams and they let Springfield get by with more than their share of shoving under the boards. Any team can be good defensively if the other team doesn't score and it is pretty hard to score with a couple of hands deflecting a player's shooting arm. This happened numerous times at Jacksonville and the officials did manage to see a few.

We're not taking JHS' part—they made a lot of mistakes—but after all it was Friday the 13th, and it proved to be a rotten day for Jacksonville and for two Peoria officials.

Dave Allison turned in a fine game for JHS under the boards and in the scoring column with 14 points followed by Dave Bone's 12 tallies. Tommy Cole and George Mathis paced Springfield with 20 and 19 markers.

PINCKNEYVILLE, Ill. (AP)—

Highly favored Herrin had a tough time but managed to edge a scrappy Belleville squad 58-53 in the sectional basketball final here Friday night.

Herrin at one time held a 12-point edge but by the use of a press in the last quarter Belleville narrowed the margin to two points. But Belleville never was quite able to tie it up or take a lead. Gene Farni led Herrin with 19 points. Ken Doughty added 18, nine of them in the final frame. Mel Patton was high man for Belleville with 16. The winners hit 590 from the field and sank eight out of 14 free throws. It was the third straight sectional title for Herrin.

DANVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Undeclared Rantoul scored its 31st basketball triumph of the season Friday night, downing Schlarman 49-48 in the sectional basketball final in Danville. It was Schlarman's third loss in 29 games.

ELDORADO, Ill. (AP)—Vic Tasky

drove in and scored a basket in the last second of play Friday night to give Benton a 49-48 victory over Carmi in the final game of the sectional here.

Benton had been dragging its feet most of the game and was behind 10 points at 46-36 with just three minutes and five seconds left. Benton got hot then and outscored Carmi 13-2. Bob Bingham of Carmi was high point man with 18. Jeff Ferguson had 15 for the winners. Benton now is 19-10.

CHICAGO (AP)—Waukegan whipped its Chicago suburban neighbor Maine High School of Des Plaines 75-61 Friday night to grab the suburban Arlington Heights sectional basketball tournament.

Scoring leaders were Maine's Tom Gebbie with 23 points and Waukegan's Dick Nixon with 22. Ray Cramer of Waukegan led 17 points in the first half to lead the North Shore basketball squad, but fouled out early in the second half.

QUINCY, Ill. (AP)—A field goal by Dave Steward in the last 10 seconds gave Macomb a 67-66 victory over Quincy Notre Dame Friday night in the Quincy sectional basketball final.

Notre Dame, ahead 34-29 at the half, held a six-point lead before Macomb rallied in the last 40 seconds. It was Macomb's 23rd victory in 27 games this season. Notre Dame now has a 26-3 record.

John Sullivan and Jerry Oetjen each scored 20 points for Macomb. Bill Kurz' 35 points was high for the losers.

GRANITE CITY, Ill. (AP)—Madison exploded with 26 points in the third quarter and went on to beat Litchfield 76-63 in the final game of the Granite City basketball sectional here Friday night.

The two teams were evenly matched before the wild third period and Litchfield even held a 29-27 edge at halftime. But Madison caught fire and Litchfield went cold at the free throw line. This time Madison hit 20 of 23 foul shots. Litchfield missed 15 out of 32. Bob Price led Madison with 21 points and Don Brackenoff had 15 for Litchfield. A full court press served Litchfield well until Madison broke it in the third frame.

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP)—Rockford West Friday night defeated Freeport 69-49 to win its first sectional tournament since it won the Illinois state basketball championship in 1955 and 1956.

After a flurry of lead changing in the first quarter, West pulled ahead and was not threatened. Freeport's Mel Wright was high scorer in a losing cause with 21 points. Clinton Bedford led Rockford scoring with 18.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Springfield High School, racing up its 28th straight victory, won its own basketball sectional Friday night, defeating a dogged Jacksonville team 59-54.

Jacksonville, behind 40-32 in the fourth quarter put on a full-court press, and scored 8 points to narrow the gap, but could not head the Springfield club.

Small led all scorers with 24 points and Schwenk, who controlled the boards, added 16. Marcellus Riesen was high for Hinsdale with 16. The game was close until the third quarter when West outscored Hinsdale 20-4.

Ray Eliot Achieved Great Success As Head Football Coach At IC

Ray Eliot, well known as the dean of Big Ten coaches, also achieved great success as head football coach for the Illinois College Blueboys from 1932-36. Besides coaching football, he also coached the swimming and baseball squads.

Eliot came to I.C. after receiving his Master degree from Columbia University. In 1932 and 1933 he served as assistant coach under VanMeter. In his 5 years at the Hilltop, the Blueboys compiled a 22 win 13 loss and 2 tied record. This was against such opposition as Washington University, Western, Monmouth, Knox, Millikin, South Dakota, University of Kalamazoo, Parsons, North Central, Eastern, and Wash.

His best year on the Hilltop was in 1934, his first year as head coach. He compiled a 6 win and 1 loss record that year. However, in that year the Blueboys scored 140 points to the opposition's 7. The only team to beat the Eliot clan was Western by one touchdown.

Perhaps his biggest game was against South Dakota U. South Dakota was the champion of their state in college competition in 1933. A game was scheduled between them and I.C., and was played in Springfield, Ill., to accommodate the crowd. After a very hard fought game the Blueboys lost a heartbreaker 7-0.

After the 1936 season he left the Hilltop and went to the University of Illinois where he was assistant coach for five years. During the war he became head coach and gradually became known as dean of the Big 10 coaches.

Full Schedule Awaits Solons; Expect Fireworks

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — A heavy workload awaits the Illinois Legislature when it reconvenes Tuesday, and some fireworks can be expected before the lawmakers adjourn.

Republican House leaders have promised an attempt to clear the Stratton administration employment compensation bill and rush it to the Senate to meet the March 11 cutoff date for extended jobless benefits.

No substantial opposition looms for the legislation, but some House Democrats expressed irritation because the administration failed to consult with them before bringing it in. The bill would extend to July 1 the period in which unemployed may collect 39—rather than 26—weeks of benefits.

It also would permit such an extension to take effect whenever joblessness reaches a 4.375 percent level of the total insured work force for two consecutive months.

Final action will be sought this week on repeal of the law permitting youths 14 and 15 to operate motor scooters without licenses. Approval which would send the repealer to Gov. Stratton for signature, could come either in the House, where it is in passage stage Tuesday, or in the Senate, where it is in amendment stage.

A big clash looms over an expected call for adoption of a politically loaded resolution to investigate the State Welfare Department. House Republicans broadened the Democratic resolution to include an investigation of two institutions in the Democratic stronghold of Cook County.

Whether the Democratic majority will buy the package as it now stands may be decided Tuesday. At that time the resolution's chief sponsor, Rep. Abner Mikva (D-Chicago) has said he will make certain charges to support the need for a probe of purchasing and bidding practices in the administration of Welfare Director Otto Bettag, a Stratton appointee.

Also on Tuesday, the Legislature is scheduled to meet in joint session to hear an address by El Salvador, where he will be in Springfield on a goodwill visit.

Bradley Quells Butler Rally For 83-77 Win

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Top-seeded Bradley piled up an 11 point lead early in the second half, then barely stayed off a furious late rally by Butler and beat the Bulldog 83-77 in the quarter-finals of the National Invitation Basketball Tournament in Madison Square Garden.

St. John's of New York upset third-seeded St. Bonaventure 82-74 in the second game of the night and joined Bradley in next Thursday's semifinals.

In an afternoon doubleheader winding up the first round, New York University were down Denver 90-81 and Providence nipped Manhattan 68-66. Providence plays second-seeded St. Louis and NYU meets fourth-seeded Oklahoma City Tuesday night.

Butler, thrown off on its shooting by a zone defense Bradley set up in the second half, fell behind 60-49 before finding the range again on corner shots.

With Bill Scott and Orville Rose sinking them from the side, Butler pulled up to within two points at 68-66 with 7:36 left. With five minutes left, it was 74-71 and the crowd was in an uproar yelling for the underdogs from Indianapolis who looked so good whipping Fordham Thursday night.

Then the Missouri Valley Conference runners-up steadied and wrapped up the victory with accurate foul shooting. In the last five minutes, the Braves from Peoria got only one field goal but sank seven of eight free throws.

Butler's last gasp came with 2:36 left when Rose hit from the side to make it 78-75. Bradley called time out and when play resumed, Butler to commit fouls for possession.

In the final analysis it was accurate foul shooting that gave the nation's fourth-ranked team the victory. Bradley made 31 field goals to Butler's 33. But from the charity line, Bradley made 21 of 27 while Butler canned a mere 11 of 26.

Dan Smith, with 24 points, and Bobby Joe Mason, with 18-10 of them free throws—topped Bradley.

TO SPEAK AT PITTSFIELD

Jesse Owens, selected in the national poll as the greatest track athlete of the twentieth century, will be the guest speaker at the Pittsfield high school P.T.A. meeting Monday, March 23, 1959, at 8:00 P.M. in the Pittsfield high school auditorium.

The general public is cordially invited to attend this meeting. This may be the only opportunity for the people of this vicinity to hear this great athlete and youth commission officer speak.

Cincinnati Upsets Kansas State, 85-75; Takes NCAA Title

By ORLO ROBERTSON

Associated Press Sports Writer
LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Cincinnati, with All-America Oscar Robertson turning feeder and rebounder in the second half, upset Kansas State 85-75 in the finals of the NCAA Midwest Regional Basketball Tournament Saturday night.

The victory, coming after Texas Christian defeated DePaul 71-61 for third place, sent the Cincinnati Bearcats into the NCAA round of four in Louisville Friday.

Robertson scored 24 points, far off his usual pace. But it was his brilliant feeding and control of the ball that carried the Missouri Valley Conference champion to victory over the nation's No. 1 team.

Bob Boozer, Kansas State All-American, tallied 32 points for high scoring honors, but he was no match for the clever "Big O" as the Cincinnati Ace kept his team in the game and engineered a late drive that scored 10 points to K-State's one in the last two minutes.

Until Cincinnati broke open the game in the last two minutes it was a nip-and-tuck affair and early in the contest threatened to be

PLAN MISSILE TESTING STATION IN PACIFIC

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army plans to begin construction July 1 on Kwajalein Island in the Pacific of "certain activities" related to research and testing of antiballistic missiles, a Pentagon spokesman said Saturday.

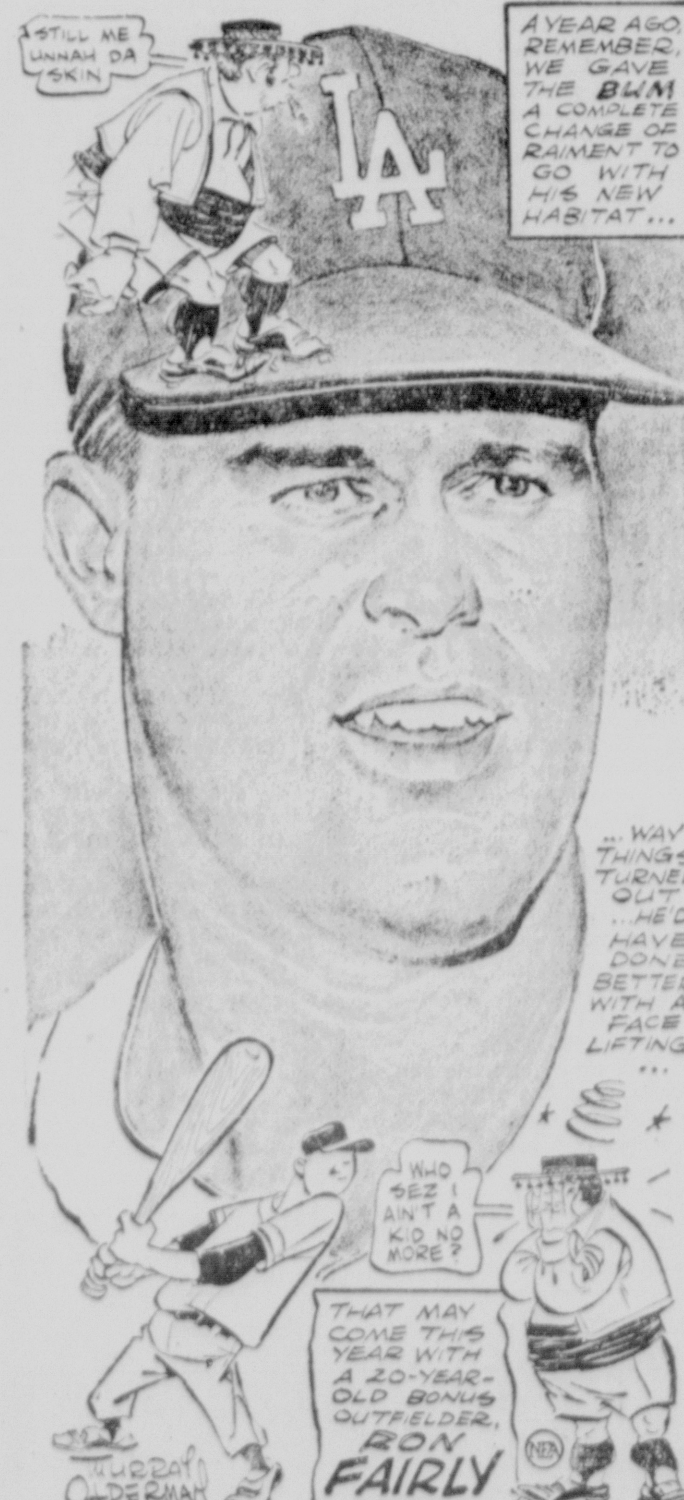

Up to now the Navy has maintained a station on the island which is being abandoned, the spokesman said.

He said the Army plans to maintain a force of approximately 1,000 men at the site, of which about 40 will be military personnel and the rest civilians.

Additionally, he said, the civilian force is being required to support a continuing Military Air Transport facility on the island.

Claim 3 Iraqi Jets Made Attack Inside Syria

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—A United Arab Republic military spokesman said three Iraqi jet planes carried out a machine-gun-rocket attack Saturday about six miles inside Syrian territory.

The semiofficial Middle East news agency quoted the spokesman of the U.A.R. 1st Syrian Army as saying the planes damaged a vehicle. No mention was made of casualties.

The statement distributed here said three Iraqi Fury aircraft attacked Syrian frontiers Saturday afternoon.

"The Iraqi planes penetrated 10 kilometers—six miles—inside Syrian territory, attacked and damaged an isolated Arab car, using rockets and machine guns," the spokesman said.

Earlier, a Radio Damascus broadcast heard in London said Iraqi planes had attacked a village about six miles inside Syrian territory.

Relations between Iraq and Syria have worsened since the government of Iraq Premier Abdel Karim Kassem, put down a revolt in the northern Iraqi city of Mosul early this week.

This was the second reported attack on Syrian territory by Iraqi planes. Last Tuesday, the U.A.R. protested that Iraqi planes had shot up the Syrian border village of Hamoudiya and destroyed a house. The village in northeast Syria is about three miles inside Syrian territory.

Set Scholarship Exams April 25 At Court House

Wilfrid E. Rice, superintendent of schools of Morgan county, announces that the county scholarship examination to select candidates for scholarships at the University of Illinois will be held in the court house on Saturday, April 25, 1959, at 9:00 a.m. The examination will require three hours.

On the basis of this examination, the following scholarships will be awarded at the University of Illinois, if suitable candidates are found:

County Scholarship, Agriculture Scholarship, Home Economics Scholarship, Scholarship for a Child of a Veteran of World War I, Scholarship for a Child of a Veteran of World War II, Scholarship for a Child of a Veteran of the Korean Conflict, who served between June 28, 1950, and January 31, 1955.

In choosing candidates for the scholarships for veterans' children, preferences shall be given to the child of a veteran who is deceased or disabled as provided in the law.

Eligible candidates who plan to write this examination should notify Supt. Rice not later than April 10.

Pension Checks Late This Month

Irwin Aufdenkamp, superintendent of the Morgan County Welfare department, said yesterday that a change to mechanical computation of grant budgets in offices at Springfield has delayed some public aid checks.

Morgan county old age pensioners and other recipients of public assistance may not get their checks on schedule, due to the changes.

March public aid grant checks are running four to five days late in reaching recipients of old age, blind, disability and dependent children assistance, according to Mr. Aufdenkamp.

He said the delay was caused by difficulties in switching from caseworker figuring of grant budgets to mechanical figuring by the electronic computer in the Springfield office of the Commission. Checks will be back on regular schedule for the April grants.

Window Broken At Liquor Store; Arrest Two Men

A large plate glass window at the Duncan Liquor store on North Main street was broken shortly after 10 o'clock last night and two men were held on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Arrested were Albert Hayes and Joe Angelo, both of Jacksonville. According to investigating officers, the two are believed to have been fighting. Angelo was rushed to Passavant hospital for treatment of a cut hand.

City police attended at the scene.

Ralph M. Hixon, Tennessee Native, Dies In City

Ralph Maynard Hixon passed away at the home of his brother, John William Hixon, 1146 East Independence, at 3:45 p.m., Saturday.

He was a native of Granger County, Tenn., and was born June 24, 1903. He was the son of John William and Martha Bibbins Hixon. He is survived by his brother, John, and three sisters, Mrs. R. L. Turley of Howe, Texas, Mrs. Frances Stockton and Mrs. James Miller, both of Jacksonville.

Mr. Hixon served with the U. S. Army during World War Two and previous to moving to Jacksonville six weeks ago had farmed in the Waverly vicinity for some time.

The body is at the Williamson Funeral Home. Arrangements will be announced.

DRIVER HOSPITALIZED — BLAME WET PAVEMENT

Wet pavement, according to State police, was listed as a contributing cause to an accident 14 miles south of the city on Route 67 about 8:15 p.m. Saturday.

Elmer Hayes, 27, Wilsonville, driver of the 1951 Dodge in picture, was admitted to Passavant hospital for injuries to both legs and a facial injury. His auto was stalled in a drive with a portion of the front end on the highway.

when a companion started walking down the highway to warn approaching motorists. Wet pavement and poor visibility caused an oncoming auto driven by Andrew Lawson, Manchester, to see the warning too late. The two autos collided, throwing the Hayes auto into a ditch.

Lawson and his wife, Margaret, were rushed to the hospital along with Hayes by ambulance for treatment. Mrs. Lawson was treated for an ankle injury and released. Mr. Lawson was not injured.

The Lawson auto was damaged on the right front and was driven from the scene. The Hayes auto was removed from the scene by the Brummett wrecker.

State trooper John Waltrip attended at the scene of the accident.

IBSSS Ships Maps For Blind To Union Of South Africa

What amounts to the most valuable shipment of braille maps ever to be sent to a foreign school for the blind from the Illinois Braille and Sight Saving School printing department has just been accepted by the American Railway Express for delivery to President L. V. Caine of the School for the Blind in Worcester, Cape Province, Union of South Africa. The shipment consists of 60 volumes of embossed maps with braille keys, edited, printed and bound at the I.B.S.S.S.

Brass plates for printing the braille maps have been worked out on the Frank H. Hall Braille Map Maker, following principles laid down by Superintendent Hall in the 1890's. The Hall principles have been generally accepted throughout the United States. Map making at the I.B.S.S.S. really began in 1927.

Periodic revisions, sometimes of an entire continental volume, must be made to represent correctly the changes in political patterns and population fluctuations (populations being indicated in the "keys" to the "face" maps).

Names of countries, cities, rivers, mountains, etc., cannot be spelled out in full on the "face" maps, but, instead, are "keyed in" through the use of indicative letters, such as "ct" for Cape Town, while most physical features are numbered, as, for example, "12" for the Congo River.

The I.B.S.S.S. print shop, besides miscellaneous items for the school (excepting school textbooks done at Louisville), prints braille music, special manuals for the newly blinded adults of Illinois, and four periodicals — The Illinois Braille Messenger (statewide); The Banner (the school's own newspaper); The Living Museum (published by the Illinois State Museum in both inkprint and braille); and the News Letter of the Illinois Federation of the Blind.

Occasional printing is done for organizations in Illinois working for or consisting of blind people. The I.B.S.S.S. print shop has just been contacted by the Chicago Bowling Leagues of the Blind to print the rather extensive program of the forthcoming national convention of blind bowlers to be held in Chicago.

Mrs. Van Seymour (nee Mary Jane Smith) is the latest addition to the printing staff as braille music transcriber.

John Ward, Gary Cook Win Sectional Speech Events

Jacksonville High School gained two entries in the ISHA state speech finals Saturday when they took first and second place in two events at the Sectional Speech contest held in Lincoln, Ill. John Ward, a senior, won first place in the After Dinner Speaking event, and Gary Cook, a junior, was given second place in the Extempore Speaking division.

The two earned the right to compete in the State Speech Contest at Urbana April 10-11. In all six events were entered in the sectional meetings from JHS. There are nine divisions.

Ward's original speech entitled "In the Spirit of Fun" was written as an English project in Miss Emma Mae Leonard's English class. Miss Leonard assisted in preparing the speech for the contest. For his topic in the speech festival, Cook was assigned "Our Cuban Foreign Policy."

Also participating in the contest from Jacksonville were Evelyn Barnes who entered the Original Monologue and Humorous Reading events, Bill Hitt who entered the Serious Reading section and Gail Ward who participated in Oratorical Declamation.

All individual events were coached by Miss Fernese Goddin, who also accompanied the group to Lincoln.

In all there were 34 schools represented at the meeting with over 100 contestants. The overall sweepstakes for the most winning entrants went to Lincoln with Petersburg, Pittsfield and Jacksonville tying for second place.

Musical Patients Entertain Altar Society Members

The Altar Society of the Church of Our Saviour held the regular party for the month Monday, March 9. Mrs. Alta Elsch, music therapist at the Jacksonville State Hospital, and five talented patients presented an authentic demonstration of music therapy on a hospital ward or infirmary.

This demonstration in which the citizen audience momentarily assumed the role of patients on a ward, began with singing by the entire group.

Other numbers included violin, clarinet, harmonica and vocal selections. Roy Moffler, volunteer worker at the hospital and a freshman at MacMurray, entertained with accordion solo.

The program was designed to increase public understanding of mental illness and to stimulate citizen interest in the state hospital and its goals.

The remainder of the evening was spent in playing bridge and pinocle for which many lovely prizes were awarded.

Refreshments were served at the close of play.

Receive Donations For 'Fun Frolic' Show At Winchester

By Nancy Hainsforth
(Winchester Correspondent)
(Telephone Pioneer 2-5526)

WINCHESTER — Donations continue to roll in as plans for the "Fun and Frolic" benefit progress with Mrs. L. Allan Watt, treasurer of the group organized to present a variety show to raise money for the purchase of basketball uniforms, reporting $286 deposited Friday to the account.

Donations from several high school alumni amount to $6 while approximately 50 patrons have given a total of $260. The names of these patrons will appear next week and also the programs for the evenings' entertainment on local 1 and 2.

Among the local organizations which have agreed to participate in the show are the Senior Women's Club, the Junior Women's Club, Kiwanis, Jaycees, Legion, Winchester high school classes and organizations, Ailey Grade school, Winchester Grade school, Manchester P.T.A. and a community group of Glasgow. As the show is tied together the individual acts will be made public.

General ticket sales will start tomorrow with tickets available at Stables Cafe, Roosa's Cafe and Sipes Service Station as well as from any member of the ticket committee or any high school student. The committee wishes to add that it is not too late to become a patron, if you have not been contacted and wish to donate, please contact either Mrs. Watt or any member of the ticket committee.

Masons Meet

Representatives of 17 lodges were on hand Thursday to witness and participate in the honoring of four men with the third degree of Masonry. The men who became Master Masons during the ceremony are J. Ralph Brown, Robert Slagle, Gerald W. Wisdom and John K. Rutherford.

A dinner prepared and served by wives of the Masons was served at the Legion Hall to 110 men at 6 p.m. and it was followed by additional ceremonies at the Masonic Hall.

King And Queen

Lewis Pate and Sandra Pate were crowned king and queen of the GAA St. Patrick's Day dance at the high school gymnasium Friday night before a large crowd.

Miss Pile, who wore a green and silver crown bestowed on her by the retiring queen, Judy Dolen, carried a bouquet of white carnations tied with green ribbons. The king wore the traditional Irish hat and white boutonniere.

Candidates for the honor were Susan Palmer, Georgia Roosa, Judy Weder, James Brown, Henry Carriager and Pat Jefferson. The students, representatives of various organizations, were voted upon by their classmates.

Colorful, Instructive Exhibit To Be Seen At UI Farm Festival

URBANA — Farm and Home Festival visitors at the University of Illinois on April 2, 3 and 4 will take a look into the future of farm equipment and machinery.

One complete exhibit area in the Agricultural Engineering tractor laboratory will be used to show festival guests the research that is going on today to reduce farm labor needs in the future with better equipment and machinery.

"Research for Tomorrow" exhibits in the area of mechanization will highlight research on tractors, minimum tillage, hay pelleting and fertilizer application. They will tell the story of how farmers will need to change their future operations to keep up with trends in farm size and productivity.

Search for power, economy and ease of maintenance will be shown in the tractor exhibit. This display will feature research equipment used to help develop better air cleaners for tractors and better carburetor systems for increased economy and power.

Hay Pelleting Research
Feeding trials with pelleted hay have shown some spectacular improvements in rates of gain. The hay-pelleting exhibit will show present research aimed at providing information for design of machines to make pelleting a field operation on the average Illinois farm.

A movie and display will show the many advantages of reduced tillage for corn and soybeans and the various ways in which this practice can be used with regular farm equipment.

Applying anhydrous ammonia fertilizer at half the usual price will be the highlight of an exhibit showing present research on new equipment for fertilizer application. Farmers probably will use more fertilizer in the future. Narrow margins of profit will require efficient ways to apply it.

Over-all farm operation changes tomorrow and in the future will be forecast in a panoramic view of farm management—1975 style. This exhibit will show the effects of changing size of farms, methods, mechanization and other factors.

Finally, one of the possible new ways to handle farm feeds—a pneumatic pressure system—will be shown in an action model. A full-sized feed-handling system will be set up in another exhibit area.

College of Agriculture staff members will be on hand at all of the exhibits to answer specific questions about your own farm operation and to suggest how you can make changes to fit your own system and situation.

This Week.. at Dixon Springs

Except for bird calls, the peeping splatter of seed whirling from cyclone seeders onto frosted and sun-jeweled grasses is about the only sound heard in early morning on some of the back fields of the Experiment Station. In the early, slanting rays of the rising sun, George McKibben and Wayne Mizell may be seen striding over hill and valley, busy at their annual spring seeding operation.

Tons Of Seed
George and Wayne are spreading out the mountain of seed, about four tons, to be broadcast over some 500 acres of new pasture land. Three flags, one at each end and one in the middle of the field, guide them in a straight path across the land as they step out side by side with about five paces separating them. Walking in a straight line, at the proper separating distance, and "with a coordinated rhythm between cranking hand and stride," George and Wayne spread the seed evenly for the resulting solid stand of forage.

Weather and Soil
The seed sowers keep an eye on seeding weather and condition of the ground. The pin-head-sized seed needs to be covered but not too deeply—about 1/4 to 1/2 inch. A soil that is checked and honeycombed with ridges and depressions is perfect for receiving and properly covering this seed. The alternate freezing and thawing of soils at this time of year causes this honeycomb condition. George feels that it's risky to seed on a rain-sealed ground where another rain will wash the seed into the hollows and creeks.

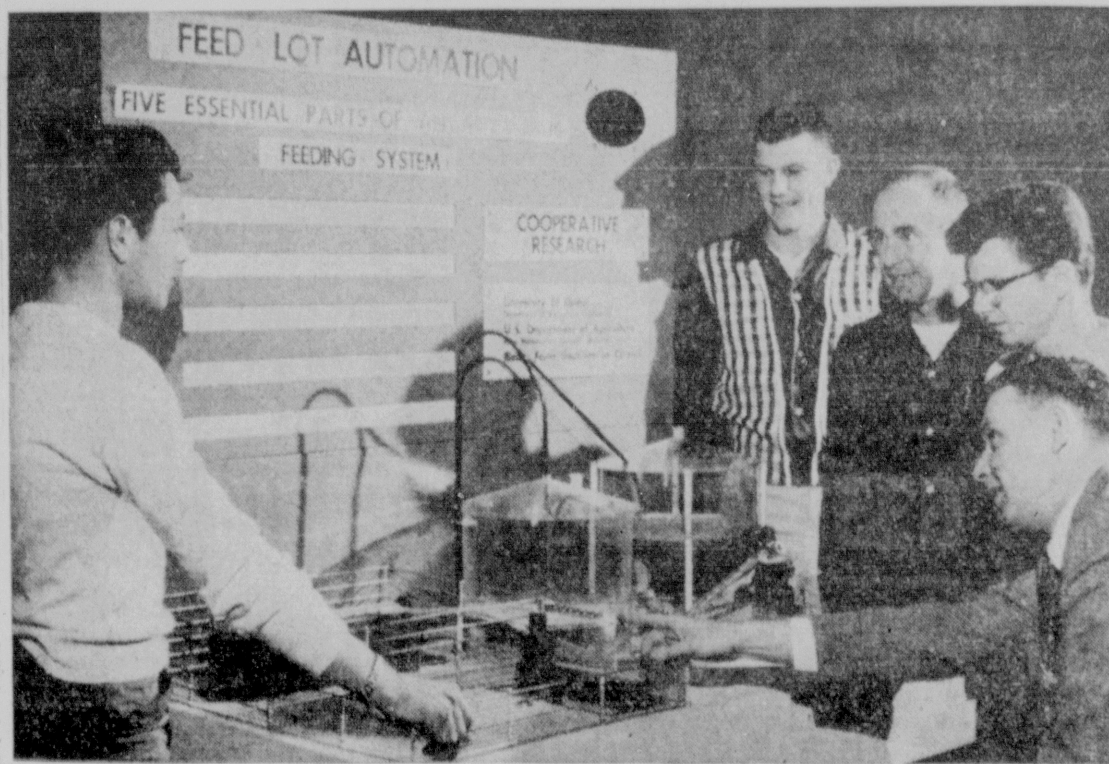

Mixture
Here is the mixture that is being used on a high percentage of the Station's fields: Ladino 1 pound, sweet clover 2 pounds, red clover 4 pounds, lespedeza 7 pounds and timothy 2 pounds. Grasses are generally fall-seeded, and last fall was no exception on the Station. However, this past winter was unusually hard on some of the seedings, and for this reason McKibben is including some timothy in the broadcast mixture. He also thinks a pound or two of red-top in the mixture would be a good bet. The larger seeded grasses like orchard, broom or fescue might best be drilled as soon as the ground will support a tractor and drill.

Inoculate
Before seeding, the clovers are mixed and inoculated. The lespedeza is inoculated and then, with the grasses, is mixed with the clovers so that the entire seeding is put on in a once-over trip. It is best not to inoculate more than 4 day's supply of seed, because the inoculating bacteria weaken and die if they are exposed to air for too long a period.

H. A. Cate, DOGGIE WITH A WINDOW
CHICAGO (AP)—Medical equipment engineers have built a model of a dog with a transparent plastic window that enables veterinarians to study the operation of a dog's lungs during artificial respiration with a small-animal resuscitator.

How much is the doggie with the window? It cost $100 to build, say engineers of Chemtron Corporation's National Cylinder Gas Division.

ATTEND U.I. SHORT FARM COURSE

Several Jacksonville area students recently attended the University of Illinois agricultural short course in Urbana. It began Feb. 3 and continued through March 13.

Farm Group To Hold National Convention

The National Farmers Union Convention in Springfield next week, March 16 to 19, will give recognition to Illinois as a growing Farmers Union state, the nucleus of a movement spreading throughout the corn belt, according to Ralph Bradley, president of the Illinois Farmers Union.

The Springfield convention opening Monday will be at the St. Nicholas Hotel, James G. Patton, national president, to preside.

New Sweet Corns, Glamour Tomato Recommended

Several new vegetable varieties, in addition to numerous older varieties, are recommended this spring by Norman F. Oebker, University of Illinois vegetable crops specialist.

Oebker reports that two new sweet corn varieties are on the market now. The first, Goldenrod, has excellent eating quality, but its ears are not large. The second, Northrup King 190, has large ears in addition to good eating quality. Oebker recommends the latter variety for both the home gardener and the commercial grower.

However, he advises that commercial growers raise it only for selling at roadside stands, where the seller can explain that its large size does not affect its quality. As for tomatoes, the specialist suggests planting the variety Glamour. Although this variety is several years old, it is one of only a few that resist cracking.

For more detailed information on Oebker's recommendations, write to the Department of Horticulture, 124 Mumford Hall, and ask for a copy of the 1959 Vegetable Variety Recommendations. The Garden Guide is another publication that is available to Illinois residents. In addition to discussing varieties, it contains general gardening information, such as disease and insect control. A copy may be had upon request from Farm Adviser George Trull at the Farm Bureau building.

Full parity farm income is one of the policy stands taken by the National Farmers Union in former conventions.

Price Legislation
The Springfield convention is expected to be highly critical of the Administration's farm program and of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson. But Mr. Patton, in his recent message, said that the long time or 50-year outlook is for agriculture to get some kind of a Wagner Act for farmers which would provide that each farmer belong to an organization of his own choosing which will truly bargain for him, preferably a general farm organization with co-ops closely affiliated.

10,000 In Illinois
Some sort of an REA-type loan fund for encouraging such an organization was expected. Eventually there will be a program to guarantee farmers a fair share of income, Mr. Patton said. The Illinois Farmers Union, according to Ralph Bradley, now has 10,000 farmers enrolled in 58 counties. In a recent interview he suggested a crop control program with some unit such as a Federal Farm Board to decide each year the acreage of crops needed, indicating that farmers themselves could control the production to maintain fair price levels.

Senators To Speak
The principal speakers Tuesday will be U. S. Senator Paul Douglas of Illinois and U. S. Senator Hubert Humphries of Minnesota. The grand banquet of the convention will be held in the state armory Wednesday evening and Walter Reuther of Michigan, head of the United Auto Workers union and vice president of the CIO, will be the speaker.

Home Bureau Activities

Jersey College unit of Home Bureau met Tuesday afternoon, March 10 in the home of Mrs. Luther Kennedy. Twelve members answered roll call with "Program Suggestions."

The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Fritz Hammer, chairman. Mrs. Hammer presented the major lesson, "Low Calorie Food Preparation," by serving three samples of cocoa, asking members to determine which contained high calorie, medium calorie and low calorie by tasting. She prepared and served low calorie corn bread and tomato salad dressing.

Mrs. John McFadden gave the minor lesson, "Program Planning." Plans were completed for the unit to be given by the unit on Play Day, March 25.

Guests were Mrs. Guy Lynn of Jacksonville and Mrs. Loren Burrus. The hostess served delightful refreshments at the close of the afternoon.

SUPPORT LEVEL SETS CEILING AND FLOOR FOR BEAN PRICES

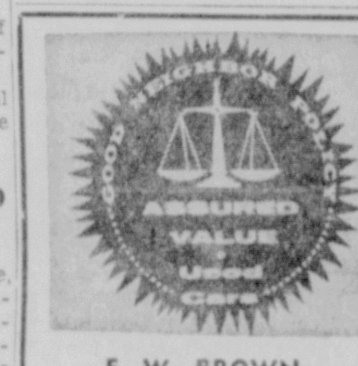

Soybean prices have been holding around the support level, less the costs of storage in commercial warehouses. This reflects the fact that more than half of the beans placed under price support have been stored in warehouses rather than on farms.

At mid-February, government figures showed that a total of 137 million bushels of 1958 crop soybeans had been placed under price support. Of this amount, 73 million bushels were under loan in warehouses, 51 million were under loan on farms and 13 million were under purchase agreements.

According to government estimates, the supply of beans available on Feb. 1 for crushing and export totaled 378 million bushels. This was 81 million more than one year before.

Disappearance Higher
During the first four months of this marketing year, October through January, exports and crushings took 186 million bushels, or 23 million more than one year before. To put it another way, rate of disappearance has increased by about 14 million bushels a week.

If this same increase holds for the rest of the year, the carryover next fall apparently will be 50 to 60 million bushels. That would compare with 21 million bushels last fall, the previous record high. (A recent USDA estimate of the carryover was much higher—90 million bushels.)

EXPERIENCED FEEDERS RELY ON DIXIE STARTING FEEDS FOR A PROFITABLE FINISH

You too, can gain MONEY-MAKING results like these:

"The Best I've Ever Fed"
EDWARD FORD, Trezevant, Tenn. Says: "Dixie Baby Pig Creep is the best feed for baby pigs I have ever fed and the same goes for Pig Creep. I think a farmer that is short of home-grown feed as I was in '58 will never regret buying Dixie's 15% Hog Grower and Dixie's 12% Hog Finisher, instead of buying corn and supplement."

"2.3 lbs. of Dixie per pound of gain"
GLEN S. KINDER, Oakridge, Mo. Says: "My feed conversion on the Dixie Program was only 2.3 lbs. of Dixie per pound of gain. I have switched away from Dixie Chick Starter twice now, but I continually find that Dixie does the best job of all, so I switch back to Dixie."

"98% Livability"
GRIMM BROS., Pacific, Mo. Says: "We have 43 of our calves on Dixie Nursing Feed and Dixie Calf Starter and we are getting exceptionally good growth. Now let's talk about livability—we're proud of our record on Dixie. Out of our last 100 calves, we lost only two, 98% livability. They tell us the national average is only about 75%."

Since the amount of beans under price support is well over the expected carryover, many beans now under price support will be used before Oct. 1. They may not be needed, however, until after May 31, when the CCC takes delivery on beans now under price support.

The supply of beans not under price support, or needed for seed, on Feb. 1 apparently was around 240 million bushels. This is about twice as much as was crushed and exported in the February-May period last year.

Price support loans will be due May 31, or in less than 90 days. After that date buyers can obtain beans from the CCC at current market prices, but not less than the price support level plus 13 cents a month. The price support level plus 13 cents a month will tend to become a price ceiling, since each sale by CCC tends to establish a market price.

Two In One
The soybean is really two products in one package. These products are (1) a high protein feed for poultry and livestock and (2)

a food fat used in cooking and at the table. The market for the protein feed is increasing, but it may meet more competition from cottonseed meal next year. The soybean oil must sell in U.S. and world markets in competition with many fats and oils, including butter, lard, cottonseed oil, coconut oil, tallow, peanut oil, olive oil, sesame oil, etc.

The price support level for 1959 crop soybeans will be $1.85 a bushel, 24 cents less than for the 1958 crop.

Tantrum—Not A Revolution

When talk swings around to the angry young men and the beat generation, the notion can easily develop that individual protest really wells up in the chests of America's young folk.

But the evidence from a variety of surveys, including some recent ones, is to the contrary.

Most of our youngsters seem to want a shell of security put about them. Their hope is for a safe, sure job, a solid family setup, and so on.

Nothing wrong in wanting some fundamental assurances, in seeking the good, stable things of this life. But there is more to it than just that.

Life is also risk-taking, fist-shaking, fighting for a cause, breaking old molds, daring new ground.

The samplers generally suggest that very few of our young people care to involve themselves in these adventures as they advance toward maturity. They fear the unknown, the uncertain. They wish fervently for the predictable.

And even the "angry" and the "beat" do not markedly alter this broad portrait of the country's youth.

The protest of the beat group, if protest it can be called, is simply withdrawal from the troubled age they find themselves in. This is no bold, individualistic striking out against a society encrusted with barnacles. It is a shrinking from combat that negates individuality in a way far worse than that of the security-seeking youth who accepts his world yet wants no trouble from it.

As for the angry ones, their protests are vigorous enough. The main difficulty appears to be that in almost every instance they are swinging so hard and so often that they are blind to the many good things around them, and take no time to search out and promote constructive answers to the dilemmas of our age.

Protest that is merely a howl of pain or rage isn't sufficient. We need men today, as we always have, who are willing to hurl themselves against the untamed wall, to venture down the dark, tangled path, to strike out toward a horizon which shimmers in a haze of uncertainty.

If we don't get enough of them, the day will come when an unseen but powerfully felt limit will check our freedom. We will be traveling an ever narrowing closed course, with our aspirations and our achievements contracting with each diminishing circuit we make.

Voice Of The Turtle

When the man of the house is on regular spring-summer-fall yard duty, he seems geared for any outdoor task large or small. He'll bound out of the house to snap up a wandering bit of paper, or a fragment of glass glinting in the sun.

But all that changes when winter sets in. The man of the house retreats inside, slamming the door and seeking out the comfort of the soft chair.

There he remains like a hibernating creature, for interminable months. It just isn't the season for going outdoors, except to get indoors somewhere else.

Yet the long withdrawal must end, inevitably. There comes that day when he peers out of the window and sees his bright sun standing at an angle that hints of a new season.

An unseen magic wand taps him. He tosses on a light jacket, storms out of the house and strides purposefully across the lawn. He picks up a metal lawn chair which a chill wind blew over some three months before.

The thaw has begun. The life cycle renews itself. Soon he'll be chasing stray cigarette butts and old candy wrappers with all his old vigor. And just try to get him to move that chest in the living room.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Are TV Westerns losing favor? Nope. Here's one that rose out of the dust after being gunned down.

It's "Tombstone Territory," which returned to ABC Friday night and looks good to continue its ride on the TV range. A lot of folks were surprised when the show was canceled last year.

"So was I," admitted young Pat Conway, who co-stars with Richard Eastman on the series. "The show had gotten good reviews and the ratings were okay. But we got caught in the middle of a shuffle of the advertising agencies that handled the sponsor."

When the show was dropped, the producers went ahead with 13 more films with the notion of syndication the total of 52. But network interest revived, and "Tombstone Territory" may well continue for several more seasons.

That's okay with Pat, who doesn't mind hard work. He has experienced enough idleness as an actor.

There were times, in fact, when he might have concluded that his father was right. Pat is the son of the late Jack Conway, one of the great directors of MGM's heyday and maker of most of Clark Gable's action films.

"Dad didn't think much of my wanting to become an actor," Pat recalled. "He realized the great odds against finding success. It's true, of course. Of 10,000 mem-

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — A Washington area patrolman stopped a car the other night that was hurtling without lights down a busy suburban street. To the officer's surprise, the occupants turned out to be Czech Embassy Third Secretary Jaroslav Skacil and a lady friend.

Since diplomats are immune from arrest and traffic tickets, the cop could only caution Skacil to take it easy and explain to him the benefits of obeying the law. The diplomat promised to behave.

Two hours later the same policeman stopped an auto doing 70 m.p.h. in a 35-mile zone. Sitting behind the wheel with an embarrassed look on his face was none other than Jaroslav Skacil. Anyone else would have gotten a heavy fine. But all the cop could do in this case was repeat his lecture.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's tough stand against the Soviet Union on Berlin apparently is based on the belief that the United States could smash the Soviets in an all-out war—if it came any time soon.

Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy has expressed such a view repeatedly in recent weeks. So have others. They are basing their faith on American bombers, not on ground troops.

Eisenhower himself this week ruled out land war by conceding the United States and its allies are far outmatched by the Soviets on the ground. He did not rule out nuclear war.

Nuclear war would have to be carried out by the American Strategic Air Command, which could strike from bases around the U.S.S.R. American reliance on bombers will change as both this country and the Soviet Union develop missiles.

Democrats in Congress have protested that the administration is letting the Soviets gain an ever widening lead in missiles. Eisenhower replies that he knows exactly what he's doing.

On Jan. 20 McElroy said the United States has forces ready "to destroy any nation attacking our country." Again on March 2 he said this country has "definite offensive superiority over the Soviets at this time."

Sen. Richard Russell (D-Ga.) skeptical about American superiority as late as Jan. 20, began sounding optimistic.

On Jan. 28 Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said: "From the many bases that surround the Soviet Union we could devastate them. Only a madman would start a war now."

He stressed the superiority of the Strategic Air Command. So did Gen. Nathan Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

But when it comes to missiles—the ultimate weapons of the future—Russell said: "No question that Soviet Russia is ahead of us."

Even if this country has destructive superiority now and if the Soviets gain it in the not-too-distant future, both situations raise painful questions.

The Western alliance is holding together against Premier Nikita Khrushchev's demand that the Allies get their troops out of Berlin. No one knows for sure why he chose to precipitate a crisis over Berlin now.

There could be several reasons: to gain Western recognition for the Communist East German regime; to weaken the West's will to resist just a little bit by trying to force the West into concessions to avoid a showdown that might mean war; or, through Western fear of war, weaken the whole Western alliance.

By not ruling out the possibility of nuclear war, Eisenhower actually raised the possibility of it. In a nuclear war the Soviets even though being smashed at home, would seek to retaliate in kind, the nearest target is Western Europe.

What looks like a solid Western alliance now might fall apart if this country's European allies came up to the brink of their own devastation over the question of refusing to budge on Berlin.

If the Soviets in a few years have missile superiority—missiles that could crush Western Europe and missiles that could cross the ocean to hit this country—what will this do to American toughness and will to resist?

These are all questions simmering in the Berlin kettle and the arguments between the administration and the Democrats over future defense plans.

What started out as "accommodations to friends" is putting dollars into the bank account of John and Thelma Hollins.

And all without moving their "factory" out of their home basement. Ten years ago, when Hollins, superintendent in a paint manufacturing firm, was only a few months from retirement, the Hollins' daughter was married.

"We didn't have a lot of money to spend on catering, but we wanted to give Jane a nice wedding reception," says Mrs. Hollins. "So I decided I'd be my own caterer, for 100 guests."

"I always liked to fuss with fancy foods, so I let myself go and really turned out some elegant canapés and sandwiches."

"Everybody exclaimed over how pretty they looked and how good they tasted. A week later, a friend asked me if, as a special accommodation, I would make some canapés for a garden party she was having."

It's not hard to imagine the rest.

"At first John was only delivery man," says Mrs. Hollins. "But, after he retired, I put him to work."

"What else could I do, when we had orders for as many as 4,700 canapés and sandwiches for a big reception?"

"I was all thumbs at first," admits Hollins, with a grin. "But you'd be surprised how quickly a man can learn to make a pinwheel sandwich."

Mr. and Mrs. Hollins charge the "going" rate in their town—10 cents a sandwich or canapé.

"My deep freeze helps," says Mrs. Hollins. "I can make up some sandwiches a bit in advance of delivery."

The Hollins team has turned out fancy party fare for church and club groups, as well as individuals.

"This past December, I had to start turning down holiday orders by the 15th," Mrs. Hollins says. "And by January I was taking orders for June weddings."

"The best part of this is the fact that we do all our work at home. No office rent. No carfare or lunches or business clothes."

The Hollinses are busy planning a trip to Europe now.

"We're going to take time off after July 1 and spend some of our money," says Hollins, happily. "We feel we've earned a really super vacation."

WEEKLY BIBLE COMMENT

The Cross of Christ

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

No matter in religion is more surrounded by mystery. Has been more concerned in theological speculation and controversy, and to many has more motivating power and inspiration than the Cross of Christ.

One approaches the subject with a deep sense of humility and inadequacy in view of the place that the Cross occupies in the New Testament and in Christian history and thought.

To me there are at least three phases of the Cross of Christ. There is the Crucifixion as an historic fact; there is the Cross in theology; and there is the Cross in experience.

As a fact in history, the crucifixion of Jesus was not unique or an isolated event. It was the Man who was crucified, and the place of the Crucifixion in His life and ministry, that have made it so vital religiously.

Crucifixion was a common form of execution. Hundreds, if not thousands, suffered death this way. On page 54 of the "Helps" accompanying my "Baster's Teachers' Bible" it is stated that in the persecutions against devout Jews under Alexander Jannaeus, nearly 100 years before Christ "800 Pharisees, who had fled for refuge to the fortress of Bethoron, were crucified in one day by the orders of this royal butcher."

The significance of the Cross is not so a fact in history. Many martyrs have suffered a similar, if not so extreme, a fate. I wonder whether in glorifying the Cross we have ever frankly faced the question whether it was the will of God, or the violence and evil of men, that sent Jesus to His death.

Some years ago I spent a day with the eminent British theologian, the late Dr. P. T. Forsyth, in Lassen Volcanic National Park, who had written much concerning the Cross as an item of Jesus' life.

The wearing of the Cross as a symbol of consecration and devotion in churches is a natural expression of their faith and place. But I wonder how many who wear the Cross as a piece of jewelry feel any significance of the sacrifice and tragedy that the Cross of Christ involves?

It is a serious thing to wear the Cross. Its true meaning is a Christian sense is to wear the Cross in the heart.

Continental United States has with the eminent British theologian, the late Dr. P. T. Forsyth, in Lassen Volcanic National Park, who had written much concerning the Cross as an item of Jesus' life.

Moments Women Would Rather Not Remember—

Nothing makes a woman feel so tacky as— Getting a frizzy permanent when her hair is already so short she can't cut off the frizz.

Going to a party, dressed in her best, and finding that she is the only one who isn't wearing casual clothes.

Putting on last Spring's suit and finding that she has gained so much weight she feels like a stuffed sausage.

Being caught at the supermarket in pin curls and faded pedal pushers by an acquaintance who always looks like a fashion plate.

Going to a gay evening party in a shoplike maternity dress and seeing how glamorous all of the other women look.

Not being able to get to the beauty salon for a "touch up" before her dyed hair grows out along the part line.

Being told in the middle of a party that her slip is showing and suspecting it has been that way all evening.

Having a woman who is far more slender than she is say, "I've got to lose weight. I look simply awful."

Having her husband ask innocently when she is dressed to go to a party, "Is that what you're going to wear?" or "You'd better hurry, and change your dress, we have to leave here in 15 minutes."

Having her husband look at a dress in a shop window and ask: "Why don't you get that kind of dress?" and realizing that in order to wear "that kind of dress" she would have to be 20 years younger and 20 pounds lighter.

Going to a luncheon in a winter hat and suddenly noticing that other women in the room are wearing a gay Spring bonnet.

Hog Raisers Of Area Invited To Meeting Here Next Tuesday

It will be Swine Growers Day in Jacksonville Tuesday. In recent years the University of Illinois animal science men have held a program on the subject of raising and marketing hogs in Urbana for one day in February or March. This year they are holding seven such meetings throughout the state. They'll be in Jacksonville Tuesday, at the high school auditorium, beginning at 9:30 a.m. George Trull, Morgan county farm adviser, and all the rest of his associates in this area are helping to make the day a success. They have been working on the program since late in December. Dealers in equipment concerning pork production will set up their exhibits in the alleyway back of the high school, Dale Hewitt, farm adviser of Scott county, is in charge of this phase. He will be assisted by the P.F.A. boys of Jacksonville High school and their adviser, Gerald Kuster. A luncheon will be served at the Masonic Temple by the DeMolay Mothers from 11:45 a.m. to 1 p.m. The schedule for the day is: 9:30 a.m.—Registration and Exhibits. 10:00 a.m.—Comparison of Complete Rations, Free-Choice Feeding and Mixtures of corn and supplement for growing finishing swine—G. NO. 1 FARM WOE: TAXES

CULLEN B. SWEET, a native of Morgan county now on the staff of the Illinois Agricultural association, was the speaker Thursday when the Kiwanis club entertained their farmer friends. Sweet said "We face three strong, hard problems: taxes, debt and inflation. "In 1870 the wealth of this state was 89% in real estate and today it is less than 25%. This change requires, due to obsolete taxing schedules, real estate, 22.8% of the wealth, to pay 78% of the costs of local government, schools, etc., while the balance of the wealth in this county contributes only 22%." The speaker did not set a specific answer to the problem, but he indicated that "perhaps we should have a tax on net income." The public debt is alarming, he said. "Each new baby faces an indebtedness of $3,000 here, and more in some states and cities. Inflation robs elders of their savings and it will probably get worse before it gets better."

Pike County Bands Plan Festival Mar. 19

PITTSFIELD — The Pike county band festival will be held in Griggsville this year on Thursday, March 19. There will be two guest conductors this year in place of one as has always been in the past. They are Austin McDowell and Haskell Sexton, both of the music faculty at the University of Illinois. Assisting them will be Hugh Soebbing, percussion instructor at Quincy College. Mr. Sexton has been brass instructor at the University since 1947. Mr. McDowell is associate professor of music and instructor of clarinet and woodwind supervisor at the university. Mr. Soebbing has assisted at the Pike county band festivals for several years and he will oversee the percussion sections of both bands. There will be two bands, a symphonic wind ensemble and the larger symphonic band. They will be presented in a colorful concert at 7:30 Thursday night. The larger 250 piece symphonic band will present music more suited to a large group, while the 50-piece wind ensemble will illustrate the more recent concept of a band, as maintained by many colleges and universities. Each group will be allowed more festival time, and eliminate having each band from the county present a group of members. The schools participating will be Perry, East Pike, Pleasant Hill, Barry, Hardin, West Pike, Pittsfield, Griggsville. The festival is being held at the Nichol gymnasium. Easter Music Mar. 22 The Vesper singers of the First Christian church of Pittsfield will present a program of Easter music at 5:00 p.m. Sunday, Mar. 22. The 32 piece choir is under the direction of Mrs. Norris Stauffer. Along with the traditional Easter music by the choir, there will be solos, duets, a man's quartet, a girls ensemble, an organ and piano duet, and a brass trio accompaniment for a choir number. Mrs. Louis Stone is accompanist for the choir. The public is invited. Mr. and Mrs. M. D. King, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Grigsby, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Zimmerman and Dr.

Perry Wins Trophy Each year the Pittsfield Jaycees check all games in the county as to sportsmanship, of both players and school and spectators, and at the end of the basketball season present a trophy to the school that showed the best sportsmanship. This year the winner was the Perry High school. The trophy was presented by Toby Smith, the Junior High school coach in Pittsfield.

Nazarene Pastor Resigns Rev. Garnett Mitchell of the Nazarene church in Pittsfield, has resigned, and will deliver his last sermon here on Sunday. He has accepted a call to the Nazarene church in Hoopston. The Mitchells came to Pittsfield four years ago from Monmouth, and during his stay in Pittsfield they have built a new church and which is all paid for. The Mitchells have three children. The local church has not secured a pastor to take the place of Rev. Mitchell.

State Scholarships Governor Stratton announced names of Illinois seniors to receive state scholarships, through the state's scholarship program. Those from Pike county are John D. Bradburn, Karen Bunn, Vera Dean, Leonard Litvan, James McKinney and Robert Pecher of Pittsfield; Elizabeth Brown, Roger Hampshire and Marion O'Leary of Barry and Nancy Purcell of Hull and Betty Smith of Perry.

In Grade School Tourney Pittsfield's heavyweight grade tournament team will play their first game in the state tournament at 10:40 Saturday morning at Monticello. Coach Toby Smith's boys won the tournament in Pittsfield, giving them the right to enter the state tournament. If they win Saturday against Mattoon, their next game will be on Monday afternoon at 2:15 p.m.

Class Meetings Well Attended At White Hall

WHITE HALL — The Boosters club of the Methodist church met Thursday night at the church with President Jack Ridings in charge of the business meeting. Harold Blake gave devotions and Mr. and Mrs. Blake and Mr. and Mrs. Russell DeVault were hosts for the entertainment and refreshments.

The Daughters of Faith class of the First Baptist church met Thursday night at the church with President Audrey Surbeck in charge of the business meeting. A second substantial cash donation was voted to the church building program.

Mrs. Mary Surbeck and Mrs. Rena Owens had the entertainment which consisted of a game "To Tell the Truth" which proved interesting. Iva Mae Dickerson had devotions and final plans were made for serving the Elevator dinner on the 12th. Hostesses who served refreshments were Jennie Swarrington, Thelma Ahern, Nellie Thompson, Ethel Laming, Olive Cotter, Etha Ash, Lucy Linker, Jewel Priddy.

Fellowship Program The Christian Women's Fellowship day unit met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Glen Vandaveer, with Rev. Ruth Nicklin, pastor of the First Christian church, having the devotions and study period.

The evening group met at 7:30 o'clock with Mrs. Harold Vossell, with Miss Mae Nichols having devotions and Mrs. John Neece the study period. Plans were discussed for serving of the Elevator dinner on March 12th, with the three other churches in the community participating.

What Do You Think?

By Jerry Lawless

THE RED COCKATOO?
This poem, written by Po Chu-I, is quite symbolic of learned people. Take a person, for example, who has studied hard and is "learned and eloquent." Even though he is smart, this man thinks that he is no better than other men. He only wishes for other people to benefit from his knowledge.

Think He's Snob
This man is not respected in the world of today. People instead of thinking that this person is their friend and is trying to help them, think of him as a snob who is trying to talk down to them and who is unreachably more intelligent than they are.

Indeed, person upon person will not listen to him. It is as if "They took a cage with stout bars and shut him up inside."
I ask, "What good is knowledge if no one will take heed of the results it brings?"
Do you think people dislike those who know more?
Jerry Lawless
Senior, Jacksonville High School.

Rainmaking In Ancient Times

By Mike Cook

In ancient times, people thought the frog was the father of waters. If it didn't rain, they would beat the frogs.

Now and then it did rain a little. They would beat the frogs because they thought it would bring rain.

In one tribe, men would cover themselves with the down of birds to make themselves look like clouds so that nature would get their example.
Then still others would go around throwing water on one another so that nature would throw a lot of water on them.
Most of the rain that fell, usually came long overdue. The rain makers were very careful to make the ceremonies take as long as possible.

Then, after all the hocus-pocus, the overdue rain would almost always fall, and the rain makers got credit for the rain.
Mike Cook

Corn has been the major U.S. crop as far back as official records go. Approximately three bushels in four are fed by the grower to his livestock and poultry.

England abolished its "window tax" in 1851.

THE FIRST SKETCH GIRLS AND BOYS UNDER 12 CAN TRY FOR PRIZES IN OUR BUGS BUNNY EASTER COLORING CONTEST

Your Name Age
Address

Get out your crayons or paints, girls and boys, and you're ready to compete for some wonderful prizes in our BUGS BUNNY EASTER COLORING CONTEST.

Every youngster under 12 years of age can get in on some real fun! All you have to do is color three sketches that show Bugs Bunny and some of his friends.

The first sketch appears with this story and it looks as if Bugs is pulling one of his tricks on Petunia and Porky Pig. You won't have any trouble finding plenty of places for a wide variety of colors. Just use your own judgment and when the coloring is finished, write your name, age and address below the sketch.

Then watch for the next two sketches, and have some more coloring fun. When all three sketches are completed and you have written your name, age and address on each one, mail or bring them to the BUGS BUNNY CONTEST EDITOR of The Jacksonville Journal-Courier.

That explains everything, kids! Pretty simple, isn't it? And now for the best part—you have the same chance as every other girl and boy to win a dandy prize. Just be sure to follow the rules carefully.

Here is the list of prizes to be awarded for the neatest and best coloring jobs:

Boys and Girls Under 8

First prize: New Improved 48 games (just think 48 different games in one fine big box!)

Second Prize: The Big Fun Book, a game (lots of fun in this one).

Third Prize: My First Dictionary, a beautifully illustrated colored dictionary especially for boys and girls!

Other contestants: Everyone wins in the Junior Journal contest for if you don't get one of the above prizes, you'll still be eligible for a lovely coloring book!

Boys and Girls 8 to 12

First Prize: Bible Stories Everyone Should Know (with beautiful colored illustrations).

Second Prize: Make It Yourself (a game that's loads of fun).

Third Prize: Stories That Never Grow Old (you television watchers will want to try hard for this Shirley Temple book!)

Other contestants: And if you miss one of the above prizes you'll still be a winner for there'll be a beautiful coloring book for you—so Everyone Wins in the Junior page contest!

Contest Rules

1. Every girl and boy under 12 years of age, except children of the employees of this newspaper, is eligible.
2. Clip all three Bugs Bunny sketches, color them with crayons or paints, and then paste your name, age and address at the bottom of each one.
3. When all three sketches are colored and signed, mail or bring them to on each to the BUGS BUNNY CONTEST EDITOR of The Jacksonville Journal-Courier.
4. All entries must be received by Midnight SATURDAY, March 21.
5. Judging will be on the basis of nice coloring and neatness, and winners will be announced Easter Sunday, March 29.

Why Didn't We Guess?

Why hadn't we guessed that this mysterious bird might be a Hungarian Partridge? In the first place, it is not a native bird to the United States, but the European Gray Partridge.

In the second place, it has been tried along the Atlantic Seaboard, but, as far as we know, has not survived. In Benjamin Franklin's time, many hundreds of these partridges were brought across the Atlantic. During 1908-1909, 40,000 of them reached our docks. They eventually vanished.

These Hungarian Partridges have also been introduced in the northwest and have been quite successful. They flourish, increase, and spread in certain types of country like that in the eastern part of the state of Washington. They have also been successfully introduced in northern Iowa.

We certainly appreciated the help which Miss Gustafson and the Burnses gave to us in seeing this Hungarian Partridge, rare in this area. We had never dreamed of seeing and studying it at so close a range.

Winter Morning

By Mabel Hall Goltz

The early morning sunrise
Has gilded all the sky.
The world is dressed in sparklers.

Made by Great Sun on high.
The ice is slowly melting.
From inverted chandeliers.
And tired trees are lifting up
Their branches, it appears.
The little friends around me,
Making geometric patterns.
That people do not know.
The great full moon last evening
Delighted all the stars,
And sent to earth a message
Guiding people out in cars.

Long-Ago Party Ways

By Mrs. Otto Dorr

Part 2: Time Saver
Before the days of permanents it was a tragedy when damp days spoiled your curls just before a party. One day the buggy carried a surprise.

Bonny learned one buggy held an unwrapped package far under the seat. Aunt Tilly went cautiously out to bring it to her room.

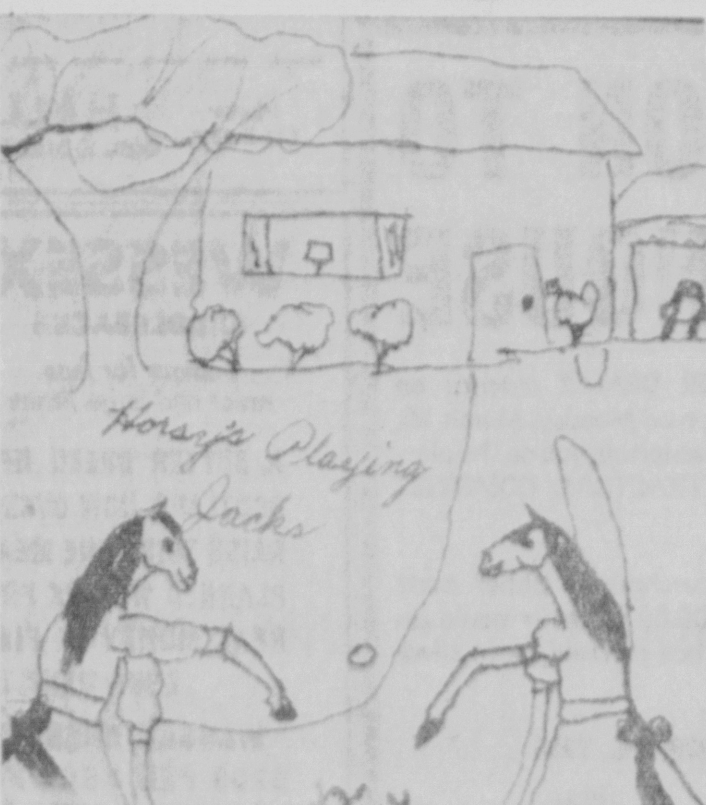

Will Grandfather Obect?
Bonny wondered what her grandfather would do if he saw a lighted lamp in his house against his rules.

One day she knew. His eyes twinkled as brightly as any candle, when he looked at her pretty hair.
"A lamp is alright for rainy day curls, but not for any other reasons," he said.

By and by electricity came to the old homestead and Bonnie was given her own candlestick to take to her house.
Sometimes it holds a pink or blue or green or red candle, but Bonnie likes best of all a white one for her candlestick.

Primitive men used knotted cords for keeping records before they learned to write.

ASTRONOTUS OCELLATUS

ASTRONOTUS OCELLATUS

By Rip Barnsdall

This fish without a common name comes originally from the northern half of South America, east of the Andes Mountains.

Although it has no common name, it is often referred to as the Suede Fish, because of its appearance. The scales on this fish are not visible, and it seems to be clothed in an olive-colored suede skin.

This is decorated with a few brilliant orange spots. A spot at the base of the tail is this brilliant orange, circled by white and black. The young are much different than the adults—having little color.

Not Suited For Home
This fish reaches an aquarium length of around five inches. For this reason, plus on other, it isn't too suited for the community aquarium.

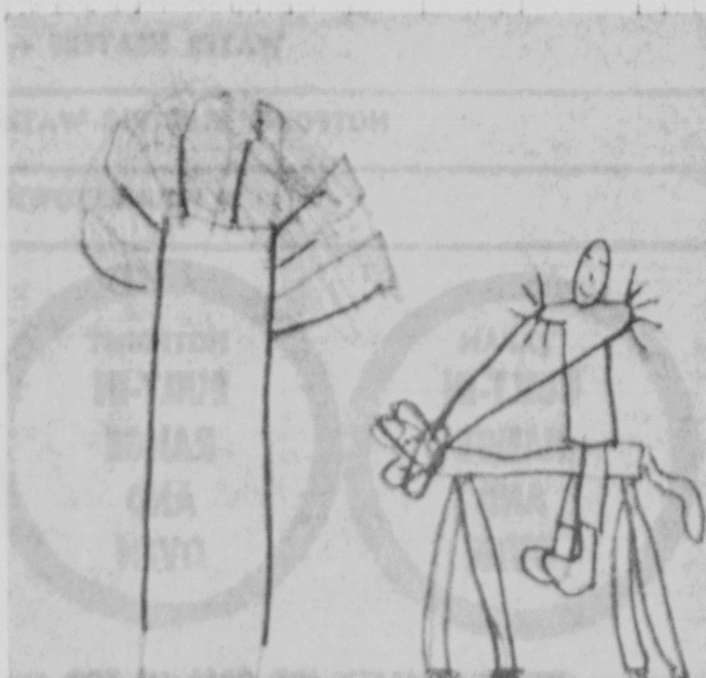

The other reason is that they like to eat live food. Egg-layers, this fish is hard to breed. Astronotus ocellatus is a lazy, easy-going fish, caring little for moving in the aquarium. Most of the time they appear to just hang in the water, looking very wise.

Brides-Elect Plan Weddings

Mrs. John W. Kurtz

Dolores Casteen Skiles Becomes Bride Of Jack Kurtz In Versailles Ceremony

An afternoon ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Carlos Casteen of Versailles, on Saturday, March seven, united in marriage Dolores Casteen Skiles and John W. (Jack) Kurtz, both of this city. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur H. Kurtz of Evanston, Illinois, former residents of Jacksonville.

The Reverend B. L. Weaver performed the impressive single ring ceremony in a setting of candelabra, arrangements of pink glads and white mums and greenery. Organ selections before and during the ceremony were played by Ronald Parkinson. Mrs. Nelson Workman of Mt. Sterling, sister of the bride, presided at the organ for the processional.

Mrs. Robert Miller of this city attended her sister and Erwin H. Foersterling, also of Jacksonville, served as best man.

Given in marriage by her father the bride chose pink with white for her wedding, wearing a conventional length costume of embroidered white organza over pink taffeta. A cummerbund of pink silk embraced the waistline of the dress and closed at the back with a rose fashioned of self material. Her short veil was secured to a matching color pink lace cap. Satin slippers in the same shade of pink carried out the color combination. She carried a nosegay of pink camellias and white rosebuds and her only jewel accessory was a single strand of pearls, a gift from her bridegroom.

Mrs. Miller wore a dress styled similar to the bride's gown. Her cummerbund fastened with a flat bow with streamers falling hemline length. Her lace head-dress was in matching pink as were her satin slippers and kid gloves. A single pink camellia was attached to Mrs. Miller's pink clutch bag.

Mrs. Casteen wore for the wedding a silk print of gray with white and Mrs. Kurtz chose a suit dress in navy, with white, and navy accessories. Both mothers wore white roses.

Reception Follows
At the reception following the ceremony pink and white continued to predominate appointments. Pink carnations, white mums and daisies graced the serving table where the bride's cake, decorated with pink flowers and topped with a camellia, was served to guests.

Mrs. Workman poured coffee and Mrs. G. O. McCoy and Mrs. Lloyd Grover, aunts of the bride, served cake to guests.

When the couple left on a wedding trip to Biloxi, Mississippi the bride was wearing for travel a willow green suit with brown mink trim, matching green accessories and a beige hat trimmed in the same shade of green. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Kurtz will reside at 735 Lincoln Avenue in Jacksonville.

Mrs. Kurtz graduated from Rushville High School; attended William Woods College at Fulton, Missouri and graduated from the DePaul University in Chicago. She is a surgical nurse at Passavant Memorial Hospital.

Dolores Skiles and Jack Kurtz

Mr. Kurtz, a graduate of Jacksonville High School and Michigan State University, Lansing, Michigan, operates the Howard Johnson restaurant in Jacksonville.

Present for the ceremony were the couple's parents; Mr. and Mrs. G. O. McCoy, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Grover, Versailles; Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Workman and daughter, Janice, Mt. Sterling; Mrs. Robert Miller and daughter, Charlene, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Foersterling, Jacksonville; and Miss Judy Kurtz of Chicago, sister of the bridegroom.

MRS. LOIS MORRIS RETURNS TO HOME IN WINCHESTER

Mrs. Lois C. Morris, formerly of the Merritt community, has returned to the Oak Rest Nursing Home in Winchester after being a patient at Passavant Hospital for five weeks. The day after she returned she was pleased to receive a 'sunshine box' containing gifts from members of the W.R.C.S. of the Merritt church. She will be glad to see any of her friends when they are in Winchester.

Mrs. G. O. McCoy, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Grover, Versailles; Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Workman and daughter, Janice, Mt. Sterling; Mrs. Robert Miller and daughter, Charlene, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Foersterling, Jacksonville; and Miss Judy Kurtz of Chicago, sister of the bridegroom.

CARPETS OUT
MILWAUKEE (AP)—Members of Zion Evangelical and Reformed church considered the use of carpeting in their new contemporary church, but the architect, William P. Wenzler, objected.

"The church places great demands and responsibility on its members," Wenzler said. "This fact is likely to be forgotten in a plush carpet atmosphere."

His view prevailed. The floors will remain bare.

Ten per cent of the population of the United States is in New York state.

Judith Ann Lair

Announcement is made of the engagement and approaching marriage of Judith Ann Lair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Lair, 3 Ogden Road, to Jerome Michael Regan, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Regan, 200 East Pennsylvania avenue.

Both are graduates of Routt High School, class of 1956. Miss Lair is a student at Holy Cross Central School of Nursing where she will graduate in August. The prospective bridegroom attended Illinois State Normal University and is presently a student at Springfield Junior College, and employed in the engineering department, Illinois Power Company.

The wedding will be solemnized August twenty-second at the Church of Our Saviour.

Meredosia - Chambersburg PTA Holds March Meeting

MEREDOSIA—The Meredosia - Chambersburg P.T.A. held its March meeting in the high school gym Wednesday night. President Don Grisham called the meeting to order. Cub Scouts John Kramer and David Edlen advanced the flag and led the pledge of allegiance.

In reporting a recent meeting of the executive board, Mr. Grisham mentioned the possibility of changes in the by-laws to be discussed at the next meeting; mentioned several ways in which part of the funds, around $200, could be used—a gift to the scholarship fund, a life membership for some one, donation to the Red Cross swimming lessons, paying some of the expenses of a delegate to the state convention. A decision will be made at the April meeting.

The April meeting will start at eight o'clock and be at Chambersburg. A nominating committee was elected: Mrs. Robert Gregory, Mrs. Robert Pool and Mrs. Glen Kunzeman.

The coach, Philip Morris, announced a potluck athletic dinner for March 25, to begin at 7:30 in the Meredosia grade school cafeteria. Letters will be awarded. Mr. Morris, coach at Culver-Stockton, will be the speaker and show films.

Mr. Young announced that there will be no school on March 20, teachers' institute; Easter vacation includes the Thursday and Friday before Easter and the Monday and Tuesday afterward. Voting in the school election April 11 will be at both Meredosia and Chambersburg.

Marshall Cloyd, the unit band director, introduced the numbers of the program. Two spirituals were sung by the high school boys' quartet, Rondell Sims, Mike Edlen, Ronnie McAllister and Jay Major. The junior high band played a rousing march, followed by solos and ensembles: Carla Kramer, saxophone; Betty Schroeder, flute; Tom Grisham, bass horn; Jolene Schneider, alto sax; Ralph Whiteside, clarinet; Ricky

STRIKE REPORT

HONOLULU (AP)—Hawaii's four-month sugar strike in 1958 caused a drop in sugar cane production, but raised molasses production by 2,500 tons over the 1957 figure. The Hawaiian Sugar Planters Assn. explained that the strike resulted in lowering the purity of cane juices. Because the juices contained less sucrose, more of the non-sucrose content was available for processing into molasses.

reached a temperature of 75 or 80 degrees and that others were chilly enough to make winter coats comfortable.

Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Gerecke were Mrs. Haskell Roberts, Velma, Delma and Johnny; Mrs. Russell Baggett and Cherrie, all from Alton. Mrs. Rogers is the Gerecke's daughter; her children and Mrs. Baggett are their grandchildren; Cherrie is a great-granddaughter.

The bride-elect is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Veder of Murrayville. She is a senior at Harrison High School near Niantic. The prospective bridegroom is studying electronics at DeVry Technical Institute in Chicago.

Foods Of Foreign Lands Served Club

Mrs. Norman Marshall entertained members and guests of Murrayville Woman's club at a 12:30 luncheon at her home in this city Thursday, March 12. The tasty and attractive luncheon, comprised of foods from foreign countries, followed the program theme on Internationalism.

Guests received cards upon arrival which corresponded to their place cards at the attractively appointed luncheon tables. Each card contained the name of a country that is a member of the United Nations. The individual and corresponding place cards listed the respective country's delegate to the U.N. and also the names of the foreign foods served. Shamrock favors paid tribute to March's St. Patrick's Day.

The afternoon meeting, conducted by the president, Mrs. Charles Wilson, opened with the pledge to the flag led by the hostess, Mrs. M. J. Bensinger, music chairman, led in two songs, "When Irish Eyes are Smiling" and "Peggy O'Neil."

Fifteen members and three guests answered roll by naming a voting delegate within the United Nations. Guests were Mrs. Emily Bell, Jacksonville; Mrs. Andy Ommen, Murrayville; and Mrs. Hershel Howard of Woodson.

Mrs. Russell Devore gave the secretary's report and Mrs. T. G. Beadles the treasurer's report. The president reported attending the March 9 20th District board meeting in Jacksonville presided over by the president, Mrs. George Knuppel, San Jose.

THE STORY: Howard Ackerman, an executive of the Buckeye plant, was seriously hurt while taking Jim Bennett through the factory. Bennett is investigating suspected sabotage which has already caused one death, and the detective believes that Ackerman was the victim of an attempt on Jim's life.

XVII

I cradled the phone, yawned some more, and leaned back on the pillow. I felt dull. After a while I got up, washed my face with cold water, put on my hat and coat and went down to the lobby. The clerk told me that the hospital, the only one in town, was located at the southern end of Main Street. I drove there. A polite young lady told me that Mr. Ackerman was in room 101, but that he was not permitted visitors. I asked if his condition was serious and she nodded. "Are you a relative?" she asked.

"Just a friend. Perhaps I can see him tomorrow?"

"Perhaps," she smiled. I thanked her and left.

When I was outside I surveyed the lay-out of the building and decided that room 101 would be in a wing paralleling the street. I walked along a sidewalk until I came to a door labeled Staff Only. I opened the door and stepped into a small alcove off a corridor. Directly opposite me was a room numbered 99. I had guessed right. I entered the corridor. Room number 101 was one door down. As I stood there the door opened and a woman came out.

There was not a young woman. There were fine lines around her mouth and her cheekbones were prominent in the thin face. Her eyes were beautiful, large and black and clear. They gazed at me with uncomfortable directness. She was smartly dressed in a dark blue sheath dress, tight over her slim figure. She wore a

"You're just morbid, aren't you," she said in a low intense voice. "You don't really care if he lives or dies, do you? Now in a dark blue sheath dress, tight over her slim figure. She wore a

Taste-Tempting Beef Stew

Most homemakers take great pride in serving their families a wide variety of nutritious, tempting meals.

However, in the search for something new and different, the savory and satisfying dishes that graced yesterday's tables are sometimes bypassed or forgotten.

But, one such dish that has never gone out of style or lost its popularity is beef stew. Because stews are "meals-in-one" and require little attention, they're tailor-made for busy days. They can also be glamorized for company meals, for spices and herbs as well as other flavor ingredients such as onions, garlic, parsley or prepared sauces do their share in giving the dish a distinctive accent.

Further variation can be accompanied with attractive biscuit, pastry, potato or cornbread toppings.

When selecting vegetables for the stew, it pays to give some thought to their appearance on the serving platter. A variety of shapes, colors and flavors is important in creating interest in the finished dish.

This special beef stew is attractively arranged around a snowed head of cauliflower. The gravy is served separately. Here's how you can prepare it for your family.

small blue hat with a tiny veil. Her shoes were blue and trim, high-heeled. Graying black hair was drawn severely back and knotted in a tight bun at the back of her head. Her legs and ankles were good. If she had been younger, she might have passed for a model in a slick fashion magazine. I knew who she was.

"I removed my hat and said politely, 'Mrs. Ackerman?'"

She nodded, watching me intently. A faint blue vein in her left temple began to move, almost imperceptibly.

"My name is Bennett. I came to see Mr. Ackerman, but was told he's not allowed visitors. How is he?"

"Bennett?" she pulled smoothly plucked brows together in a frown. "Do I know you?"

"No, ma'am, we haven't met. I was with Mr. Ackerman when he was hurt."

She held the frown. "Are you with the company?"

"Yes. Sales. Cleveland territory." I repeated my question. "How is he?"

"Bad. He may die."

"I'm sorry to hear that. Could I see him?"

She turned swiftly and opened the door. "There," she said in a low, hard voice. "There he is. Look at him."

I looked. A figure lay on a bed beneath a sheet. Except for the eyes and mouth, the entire head was covered with bandages. I assumed it was Howard Ackerman. Mrs. Ackerman closed the door silently and turned to me. "Is that what you wanted, Mr. Bennett?"

"I don't understand."

"You're just morbid, aren't you," she said in a low intense voice. "You don't really care if he lives or dies, do you? Now in a dark blue sheath dress, tight over her slim figure. She wore a like that, that he's practically dead. That will really reshuffle the cards out there, won't it? No, they'll be fighting like rats for Howard's job, and the job he was going to get—Logan Masters'. You'll spread the happy tidings, won't you?" She paused, the vein in her temple pulsing.

"Mrs. Ackerman, I—"

"Philip Varney explained to me how it happened," she said. "But why did that wheel break just when Howard was standing there?"

"I was there, too. I reminded him, 'I was lucky.' I paused and then added gently, 'You're naturally upset. There's nothing you can do here. Can I take you home?'"

She took a deep ragged breath and pressed slim fingers to her eyes. "Yes," she said. "I—I am upset." She turned and faced room 101. "I've been sitting in there since this morning. Just sitting, watching Howard, the nurse and I. I'm going home and rest now, but I'll return this evening. I don't know why. Howard is under heavy sedation and doesn't even know me. But I am his wife and I will do my wifely duty." She smiled at me, too brightly. "You're young, Mr. Bennett, aren't you? About Howard's age?"

"Perhaps." I gazed at her uneasily. "Not so young any more." I touched her arm. "I'll be glad to take you home."

She gazed at my hand on her arm, and then up at me. Her eyes softened, and for an instant she was almost beautiful. I realized then that not too many years ago she had been a desirable woman, probably at the time she'd married Howard Ackerman. Why was she so intense and bitter? And then I thought of Dorothy Donovan. Ackerman was younger than his wife, and maybe there had been other Dorothy Donovans.

She spoke archly, raising her brows. "Thank you, sir," she said, taking my arm. "We'll have a drink."

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
Colonel Robert Scott, USA (Ret.) of San Angelo is an old campaigner in every sense of the word.

In the recent Lubbock tournament he saw through a series of camouflage bids by North and made the only lead to beat a slam contract.

If you take a look at the hands you will see that only a club opening will beat the heart slam. With any other lead South has time to knock out the ace of trumps and set up the spade suit for four club discards.

When North jumped to the slam Bob could hardly believe his ears. He held the ace of trumps and two kings and his partner had doubled North's four diamond bid. Where were all the bids coming from?

Obviously North had a freakish hand. In that case he was surely prepared for the diamond opening that East had invited by his double of four diamonds. Maybe he wasn't quite so ready for the suit that South had raised.

Bob got his hand on the three of clubs. East's queen forced South's ace and the slam went down.

Q—The bidding has been:
North East South West

What do you do?
A—Double. If it stays in you will make a nice profit.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Your partner does not stand for your double and bids three diamonds.

What do you do now?

Meditations for Lent

---HOW TO ENJOY THE BIBLE

BY THE REV. EDWIN T. DAHLBERG, D.D.
President of National Council of the Churches of Christ in U.S.A.
Pastor of the Delmar Baptist Church, St. Louis, Mo.
(Written for NEA Service)

Psalm 119:97, "Oh, how I love thy law! It is my meditation all the day." (Revised Standard Version)

The writer of the 119th Psalm evidently enjoyed reading the Scriptures of his day. He said the testimonies and commandments of God were sweeter than honey to his taste. They gave him a wisdom that neither his enemies, nor his teachers, nor the aged possessed.

We can enjoy the reading of the Bible today, too, if we hunger and thirst for the righteousness of God. Too many people read the Bible only to argue about it. Or else they read it as an ancient classic. And as a schoolboy aptly expressed it, "A classic is a book which nobody ever reads except in class."

The Bible will interest us in proportion as we come to know the author. While it is true that the books of the Bible were written by human poets, historians, lawgivers, prophets, and apostles who spanned a period of more than a thousand years, the author in the final sense is God. It is His Word—His revelation to man. When we read the Scriptures, we have the feeling that God is speaking to the deepest areas of our nature.

When I was a boy there was a popular series of books by Ralph Connor entitled, "Black Rock," "Glengarry School Days," "The Man from Glengarry," and other Scotch-Canadian stories. How thrilled my wife and I were in later years to spend an entire evening with Ralph Connor in the home of a friend. We sat by the same fireside with him, and heard him tell the story of how he happened to write under the pen name, Ralph Connor, rather than under his real name as Dr. Gordon. Ever after that we read his books with a new eagerness and appreciation.

It is the same with the reading of the Bible. When we gather as families at the same fireside with God in prayer—when we receive His autograph on our hearts—when we live with Him and converse with Him so that He becomes a real person, then we begin to read, with passionate enthusiasm and delight, the book which contains His Word to His human children. Moses, Isaiah, John, Paul and the others—these are God's pen names.

ONCE IN A WHILE it is helpful to read the Bible in one of the more modern versions.

A delightful story is told of an old lady who began the study of Hebrew so that when she got to Heaven she could speak to God in His own language.

If the Bible had never been translated, that would probably be a fair picture of our religious dilemmas, both in this world and in the next world. Fortunately, the Bible is translated now in some portion or the other into more than a thousand different languages and dialects. Why then, should we not read it in a version nearest to our own forms of speech?

The King James version, on which most of the English speaking people of this generation have been brought up, will always be dear to us. But even some of the beautiful and familiar passages of that version fall dully upon our ears because we have heard them so often. That is why it is important to supplement our reading in the King James version with the use of some of the newer translations, such as those of Moffett, Goodspeed, Montgomery, and the Revised Standard Version. It is surprising what new light comes on the old words when we do this.

CONSIDER, FOR EXAMPLE, the fresh understanding we get of such a fine passage as the 8th chapter of Paul's letter to the Romans when we read it in J. B. Phillips' version, "Letters To Young Churches."

"In my opinion whatever we may have to go through now is less than nothing compared with the magnificent future God has planned for us. The whole creation is on tiptoe to see the wonderful sight of the sons of God coming into their own . . . In all these things we win an overwhelming victory through Him who has proved His love for us. I have become absolutely convinced that neither Death nor Life, neither messenger of heaven nor monarch of earth, neither what happens today nor what may happen tomorrow, neither a power from on high nor a power from below, nor anything else in God's whole world has any power to separate us from the love of God in Jesus Christ our Lord!"

This is good religion in any language. But it is good to hear it in our own language, even though rendered somewhat freely. The more we fill our hearts with "the faith of our fathers in the language of our children," the more joyous and effective Christians we will be. We will then be ready for our real responsibility, which is to translate the Bible into life.

PRAYER: We thank thee, our Father, for all thy servants who have made the Bible available to us. We thank thee not only for those who wrote it but for those who through the ages translated it, printed it, and published it. Because they shed their very blood that we might have it, may we gratefully exercise our freedom to read it, proclaim it, and live it. In Jesus' name. Amen.

LITERBERRY AID SOCIETY HELDS MARCH MEETING

The annual monthly meeting of the Literberry Baptist Aid Society was held at the church with Mrs. Paul Mallicoat, Mrs. McGinnis and Mrs. Vern Thomas as hostesses.

The president, Mrs. Alvin Ginder, opened the meeting with the pledge to the flag and sang "The Old Rugged Cross" by the group. Mrs. Edward Charlesworth gave devotions, reading scripture from the book of Psalms, and read an article entitled "Our Dwelling Place." The Lord's Prayer was prayed in unison. Minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Ralph Ginder, and the treasurer's report given by Mrs. Wiley Scribner. Eighteen members answered roll call by giving a "Time Saving Hint."

Mrs. Lela Daniels, program leader, read a paper entitled "How Prayer Changes Things." The hostess served doughnuts with ice cream and caramel sauce, coffee, mints and nuts.

Guests present were Mrs. Lark Buck, Mrs. Harold McGinnis, Mrs. Partler, Janice Lair and Allen Mallicoat. The April meeting will be held with Mrs. Merrill Masten, Mrs. Lena Masten and Mrs. Milton Williams as hostesses.

Greenfield Methodist Church Fund Drive Scheduled March 22

GREENFIELD—Sunday, March 22nd, has been set as the day for the fund drive by the Greenfield Methodist Church.

Since the fire, November 28th, which destroyed the fifty-eight year old land mark, plans for a new building have advanced to the point where an estimate of $150,000 for the new church is evident.

Sixty thousand dollars will be sought in the campaign. Seventy four thousand dollars was received from insurance on the old building, and there was some money on hand. This added to the earlier gifts totals $90,000.

It is urged by the Finance Committee that as far as possible members of the congregation please remain at home; the canvass may be expedited as much as possible in one day.

Members of the finance committee are: chairman, Kenneth Edwards; Mrs. Doll S. Duncan, Mrs. Eloise Barton; treasurer, Jesse B. Parks; chairman of the building committee, George P. Enrekin and Roland E. Bala, pastor of the church.

Woman's Club

The Greenfield Woman's Club met Wednesday afternoon in the Baptist Church annex and Mrs. Maurice L. Melvin, chairman, arranged the program on "Safety."

Mr. Esper of the secretary of state's office of Springfield, was guest speaker.

David Erthal, a high school senior, and president of the "Road Angels" explained the purpose of the organization in the safety program and told of the operation setup at the Greenfield high school.

Musical selections were presented by the high school girls' trio, Mrs. Russell Riggs was chairman and members of the hostess committee were: Mrs. J. T. Linder, Mrs. Frank Meng, Mrs. Henry Longmeyer, Mrs. Willard Pembroke and Mrs. Arnold P. Tendick.

Further plans for the May luncheon and flower show were discussed. Mrs. Byron Hill is chairman of the flower show and others on the committee are: Mrs. James Ford, Mrs. Richard Dalton, Mrs. Frank Ford, Mrs. Howard Hobson and Miss Pearl Bernes.

Prizes will be awarded in the following classes: single specimens, house plants, table settings, arrangements and compositions which will carry out the theme of book titles.

Collect $300 for Heart Fund

Mrs. Richard Cole, chairman of the Heart Fund drive in Greenfield, has announced proceeds from the drive amounted to $300. This includes donations from the canvas of the business district and residential areas, coin boxes, clubs and organizations, and response to letters from the county organization to rural residents which are added to the Greenfield total.

The drive was sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary in connection with the Greene County fund drive. Assisting in the drive for the funds were: Mrs. LeRoy Rives, Mrs. William Meng, Mrs. James Nash, Miss Bertha Faulkner, Mrs. Charles Wayne Finley, Mrs. Eloise Barton, Mrs. Howard Houlette, Mrs. Kenneth Woodkirk, Mrs. Athene Vinyard, Mrs. Jesse Menefee, Mrs. Ronald Woodkirk, Kara Sue Woodkirk, Mrs. Ebert Ferguson, Mrs. Gary Melvin and Mrs. Robert Langley.

W.S.C.S. 'Dollar Day'

Mrs. Andrew Dalton was hostess at the annual "Dollar Day" luncheon meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service Wednesday noon.

Mrs. Giller Strang was the leader of the devotional service and Mrs. Roland Bula was the leader of the lesson study. The feature of the afternoon was the members telling how they earned their dollars.

The members of the Flour de Lis club met Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Clela Hart.

Need Any Fill?

Commencing at noon Tuesday, March 17, a loader will be on hand at the Methodist Church site in Greenfield to load your trucks with broken brick or other debris suitable for filling mudholes or erosion ditches. Many people have indicated their interest in one or more loads of this material, and it is expected to remove all at this time. The loader will be on hand Tuesday afternoon and all day Wednesday and longer if needed. The church finance committee requests that if this material has any value to you, that you contribute in like amount to their building fund, but leave the amount up to you. Arrange for your trucks and have them on hand when the work commences, as they will be loaded on first come first served basis.

Byron Koontz Wins Scholarship

PATTERSON — Bryan Koontz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Koontz, of the Sunny Knoll Orchard Farm, west of Patterson, was one of 2996 Illinois High School Seniors to receive a State Scholarship through the State's Scholarship program, as announced by Governor William G. Straton. Young Koontz is a student of the Roodhouse Community High School and he completed in the examination among 16,900 applicants, last November. The examinations were constructed and scored by Science Research Associates of Chicago and the final selections were made by the Illinois State Scholarship Commission.

According to the Illinois Scholarship Law, an applicant must be an Illinois resident of good moral character, be in the upper half of his high school class, and choose to attend one of the 75 approved Illinois colleges and universities. Depending on financial need, stipends cover tuition and fees up to $600, and each scholarship is renewable for the normal 4-year undergraduate program, providing the student meets the academic requirements of the college he chooses. Bryan recently received the Star Farmer Award for Section 15 of the FFA.

Arenzville Unit Collects 367 Lbs. Of Used Clothing

ARENZVILLE — Mrs. John Fricke, child welfare chairman of Arenzville American Legion Auxiliary Unit 604, reports 367 pounds of clothing was collected in the community clothing drive for the save - the - Children Federation, during February. Mrs. Fricke wishes to thank everyone that donated clothing and shoes to this drive.

Mrs. Harold Kruse attended the 20th District Board meeting of the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs at the Dunlap hotel in Jacksonville Monday, Mrs. Florence Noble and Mrs. Olive Williams attended the meeting in the afternoon, and Mrs. Noble modeled a dress in the sewing contest.

Mrs. Dufelmeier Hostess

The Wide-Awake club met Wednesday afternoon, March 11, at the home of Mrs. Melvin Dufelmeier. The assistant hostesses were Mrs. Robert Tegeder and Mrs. Elmer Roegge.

The group sang "Peggy O'Neil," "Santa Lucia," "Lil Liza Jane" and "My Wild Irish Rose." Roll call was a household hint. Readings were given by Mrs. Elmer Roegge, Mrs. Herbert Tegeder, Mrs. Oliver Meyer, Mrs. P. E. Buck, Mrs. Fred Schuman, and Mrs. Richard Nierstadt.

Contests and bingo were enjoyed. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Howard Tegeder, Mrs. Earl Houston, Mrs. Lee Farrar, Mrs. John Jokisch, Mrs. Harry Dufelmeier, Mrs. Oliver Meyer, Mrs. Fred Schuman, and Mrs. Donald Meyer. The door prize was won by Mrs. Schuman.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses at the close of the afternoon. Eighteen members and five children were present.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. John Jokisch.

A normal human body requires about 3,000 calories of food value each day.

With The Girl Scouts

Eight new Brownie leaders attended another successful and satisfying training session held Wednesday, March 11, in the Girl Scout office. The all-day meeting was led by Mrs. Charles Nicholson, assisted by Mrs. Robert Hartman, Executive Director. Activities included handwork, songs and program planning. Opportunity was given for participants to ask questions throughout the day so that all possible assistance could be given the new leaders with their new troops.

Senior Troop No. 1 of Jacksonville on Friday began a charm course with Mrs. Bob Caldwell as instructor. For the first session the group visited the Haigh shop and were shown costumes appropriate for young people with suitable accessories. Explanations were given of proper material and clothing to be worn on various occasions. Also shown were basic straw hats which were then decorated in various ways to suit features, personalities and types of individuals. Next week the group will study improvement of speech.

Greene county Girl Scout leaders met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. K. Darrow in White Hall with a representative group present including three leaders from Roodhouse, three from Carrollton and three from White Hall. There was a lively discussion of camp plans and it was agreed there would be a three-day Day Camp in White Hall to which Roodhouse Girl Scouts would be invited and a three-day Camp in Carrollton for Scouts in that area. Further plans will be announced later. Cookie sale plans were also discussed and refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Bluffs leaders attended a meeting for Scout county leaders held Monday afternoon at the Bluffs Methodist church. Program, camp and cookie plans were discussed and it was agreed the delivery spot for cookies would be the Methodist church in Bluffs.

Cookie Workshop

Headlining the activities for the coming week is the cookie workshop to be held Wednesday, March 18, at the office for all cookie chairmen, community, school and troop. This will be the only instructional meeting to be held so if you can't attend, please send someone in your place. The session is at 9:30 a.m. There will also be a cookie craft workshop.

Monday, March 16, at 10 a.m. there will be a meeting of the Training committee in the office. Thursday the camp committee will meet at the office at 10 a.m.

Friday, March 20, from 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. a basic training course for intermediate leaders will be conducted. Anyone is welcome to attend this session to get program and craft ideas for their troops. The training course is being held especially for new leaders at Virginia, White Hall, Carrollton and Jefferson school in Jacksonville.

Next Saturday, March 21, three Illinois patrols of Girl Scouts, two patrols which will go to Roundup in Colorado in July and one patrol of alternates, will meet in Jacksonville at the home of Mrs. Elmer Lukeman for breakfast at 8 a.m. Following that they will go to Camp Shagbark for the rest of the day and spend the time practicing outdoor skills and preparing a charcoal-cooked lunch. It is expected there will be 19 Senior Scouts and four adults from the Tri-City Council as well as four Senior Scouts and two adults from our own Council.

Mission Trainee Guest At Tea In Roodhouse

ROODHOUSE — A silver tea honoring Miss Deanna Stops, the girl from the Baptist Missionary Training School of Chicago assigned to the Baptist Missionary Societies of the West Central association, was held in the First Baptist church last Friday afternoon. In spite of the cold, blustery weather, 85 women came from the various missionary societies of the association.

Mrs. Edward Weller, president of the women's work of the association, gave a short devotional after which she introduced Miss Stops. Deanna gave a very interesting talk telling the group about her Indian background, the work of Dr. and Mrs. Bentley who are white missionaries among her tribe made up of Crow Indians at Crow Agency, Montana. She sang two hymns in her native tongue and told about her call to be a missionary, and how she happened to choose the Baptist Missionary Training School of Chicago in which to receive her training.

The ladies of the association paid Deanna's train fare and gave her a love offering of $15. She also received a love offering from the Della Philaetha class.

A social hour was enjoyed at which time tea, coffee, cookies and mints were served. Those pouring the tea and coffee at the beautifully arranged table were Mrs. Jesse Hinkle and Mrs. Claude Martin.

A box of cookies was sent to Mrs. Lida Thomas who is a patient in Carle hospital, Champaign. The remaining left-over cookies were taken to the nursing homes in Roodhouse.

Miss Stops was a guest in the home of Rev. and Mrs. H. L. Janvin from Thursday to Monday, which was her spring vacation.

From Ohio

H. H. Lorion, Oak Harbor, Ohio, is visiting his uncle, Bert Tankersley, and cousin, Mrs. Jack Alred, and family.

Lent originally was a period of but 40 hours.

OPPORTUNITY CLASS AT HAGAN HOME

The Opportunity Class of Grace church met at the home of Mrs. Frank Hagan, 502 S. Church. The meeting, presided over by Mrs. Victor Kruse, opened with all repeating the 23rd Psalm.

Minutes were read and approved. Mrs. William Henderson resigned as secretary and Mrs. Hagan was appointed to take her place.

Mrs. Judy was in charge of devotions and Miss Jeanette Scott was in charge of the program. Twenty-one members and one guest were present.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Marie Wheeler, and Mrs. Hagan.

St. Patrick, it is said, used the three leaves of the shamrock as a symbol of Trinity.

Springfield Man Speaks To Bluffs Club On Safety

BLUFFS—The Bluffs Woman's club met Tuesday afternoon in the Civic club rooms for its regular March program with a Safety Theme.

The meeting opened with the pledge of allegiance and prayer by Mrs. Milda Kuskevics. The program chairman, Mrs. George Danhaus, presented Mrs. Wendell Brackett who introduced William Trinn, music instructor in the Bluffs schools who sang a group of songs, "Kashmir Song," "All Day On the Prairie," "I'll See You Again," and "Water Boy."

Gary Priest gave a monologue "Where's Grandpa," which he had given at the Band Carnival. Leonard Esper of the Secretary of State's office in Springfield was introduced by Mrs. Danhaus. He spoke on safety, informing the ladies of the traffic laws and their enforcement. An interesting question period followed his informal talk.

The president, Mrs. Paul B. Smith, presided at the business session. The next meeting will be held in Winchester on April 14 in the Illinois Rural Electric rooms with Mrs. Helen T. Watt, Home Electrification advisor giving demonstrations. The members will be in Winchester at 2 o'clock.

Open First Aid Class
The first aid class was started Tuesday, March 10.

Mrs. F. R. Hierman, Mrs. J. A. Knoepfel and Mrs. Merle Traw were named to the music committee to assist in the selection of a student to attend the Egyptian Music Camp in June.

Mrs. Floyd Hart and Mrs. Donald Mullen were named as delegate and alternate to attend State club convention in Chicago May 5, 6 and 7.

The District Federation meeting will be in Jacksonville on April 13.

Mrs. Smith gave an interesting report of the board meeting held in Jacksonville Monday.

The meeting closed with the reading of the Club Collect. The hostesses served delicious salad course from a table appointed in a spring motif, yellow jonquils and green candles in crystal. Mrs. Connela Leonard and Mrs. Florence Brackett presided at the table. The hostesses were Mrs. Leonard, Mrs. Brackett, Mrs. Clyde Hullinger, Mrs. Richard Mains, Mrs. H. H. Kilver and Mrs. Paul B. Smith.

Star actor of stage and screen, Thomas Mitchell, was first a newspaper reporter.

News Notes From JHS

By
Connie Hazelrigg and Donna Woodruff

The junior class is busy with plans for the annual Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom. The event will take place on Friday, March 20, in the McClelland dining hall. The banquet begins at 6 p.m. and the dance is from 9 p.m. to 12 midnight.

Tom Canavan, a junior, has been announced as the top JHS scorer in the mathematics contest sponsored jointly by the Mathematical Association of America and the Society of Actuaries. Bill Boston scored second and Bill Thomson, third. Other high scores were made by Gary Cook, Bill Hitt, Bob McMahan, John Mann, Bob Tays. Tom was awarded a pin bearing the seal of the Mathematics Association.

The National Honor Society will induct 22 new members March 16 in the high school auditorium. The group to be inducted includes 14 sophomores, 4 juniors, and 4 seniors. Candidates are selected on the basis of scholarship, character, service, and leadership. New members include: Cary Andras, Susan Beggs, Joyce Black, Janet Butler, Donna Fiedler, Ann Garry, Nancy Gross, Betsy Manlove, Barbara Pigott, Malcolm Porter, Janet Schroeder, Bill Stanford, Karen Strans, Lawrence Whitlock, Tom Canavan, Virginia Cronsteth, Barbara Schraeder, Jean Sorrells, Donna Lovekamp, Joanna Norris, Ann Spradlin, Gerald Sample. The induction ceremony will be followed by a social hour in the home economics room.

Plan now to see the senior class presentation of "The Adorable Spendthrift" on Thursday and Friday, April 2 and 3, in the high school auditorium. The cast has put in many hours of practice on the play which promises to be highly entertaining. The director is Miss Fergene Gordin. Mrs. Gladys Rust is class advisor, assisted by Miss Helen Richards. Seniors who are not in the cast are doing their share by working on stage, properties, and technical committees. Each home room will be represented on the ticket and candy committees.
